Expect Mercy Slaying Case To Reach Jury This Afternoon

Arguments To Dr. Sander Jury Are Being Made

Closing Arguments Are Begun Behind Closed Doors Today

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

MANCHESTER, N. H., March 9.—The sensational Dr. Hermann N. Sander "mercy-murder" case neared the jury when closing arguments began today behind locked doors.

Defense Attorney Louis E. Wyman made the final statement for Dr. Sander, accused of killing his cancer patient, Mrs. Abbie Borroto, with an injection of air.

Prosecutor William L. Phinney is due to wind up for the state and, as in his opening argument, is expected to omit any demand for the death penalty against the popular 41-year-old physician.

Strict Rules

Judge Harold Westcott laid down strict rules to maintain utter quiet and permit full concentration of the jurors on the words of the opposing attorneys and his own outline of the points at law.

The big battery of newsmen covering the trial and spectators who crowded the big room were locked in at the beginning of Wyman's talk.

The judge agreed to let one reporter picked by lot to relay an account of the statements at certain intervals to those remaining outside.

The all-male middle-class jury is expected to be handed the case sometime this afternoon. Opinions vary widely on their possible verdict and the speed with which they will reach it.

If no verdict is obtained by midnight Judge Westcott said he will

Site For New Westminster Dormitory

A six acre plot of land just south of the main campus will become the new men's dormitory area of Westminster college when the college breaks ground June 3 for Russell dormitory. Negotiations are now being completed for the purchase of the plot of land, which is part of the Braham estate. The plot overlooks the present football field. Buildings shown, left to right are the college gymnasium, Ferguson Hall, Brown Hall, and, far right, the tower of Old Main.

Westminster college officials today announced plans for an 18-acre extension of the campus to include a new athletic area and a men's dormitory.

Dr. Will W. Orr, president of the college, set June 3 as ground breaking day on a 12-acre tract of land southeast of the main campus which will include a full scale baseball field, a track, a new football field, a new field house and a parking lot.

To Build Dormitory

At the same time on a six-acre plot of land south of the main campus the college will begin construction work on a men's dormitory to be known as Russell dormitory.

The two tracts of land join southeast of the present football field. The dormitory plot is presently in the process of being purchased from the Braham estate.

The college expects to have construction of a new president's manse underway prior to ground breaking ceremonies on the other projects.

Although the field house will be staked off early in June, college officials to date have set no definite date for actual beginning of construction of this building.

Gubitchev And G-Girl Given Prison Terms

Fifteen Years In Prison Decreed By Court Today

NEW YORK, March 9.—(INS)—Valentin A. Gubitchev, first Soviet citizen convicted of spying in the United States, was sentenced today to the maximum prison term of 15 years, with a recommendation that the sentence be suspended and he be deported back to Russia.

His co-defendant, ex-government girl Judith Coplon, was sentenced to 15 years in prison on the charge she conspired with Gubitchev to send U. S. defense secrets to the Soviet Union.

The 28-year-old Coplon woman was sentenced to 15 years on her conviction of attempting to pass secret documents to Gubitchev, and to five years for trying to pass these documents to Russia.

Served Concurrently

The sentences, however, were ordered served concurrently, making the total 15 years in prison.

Gubitchev, who faced the court smiling and proud, was sentenced to 10 years as an unauthorized person trying to obtain secret U. S. paper, and to five years for conspiracy to get them from Miss Coplon.

In the Rusian's case the sentences were ordered served consecutively, making the 15-year total—maximum under the law.

Given Tongue-Lashing

Miss Coplon accepted the sentencing and a tongue-lashing from Federal Judge Sylvester Ryan without comment. She seemed to turn white at the judge's words, but otherwise showed no reaction.

Gubitchev took it all smiling.

That Gubitchev will be deported promptly seemed certain. It was disclosed in court that Secretary of State Acheson and Attorney General McGrath both had made this recommendation to U. S. Attorney Saypol, and Saypol so informed the court.

Judge Ryan said he could not question the judgement of the State department in the matter and announced he will recall Gubitchev in two weeks. The judge said he will suspend sentence on the Soviet diplomat on the day he is notified that Gubitchev is ready to leave for his homeland.

DAMAGING DOWNTOWN BOSTON FIRE

—Acme Telephoto

BOSTON, MASS.—Firemen battle a devastating 5-alarm fire early this morning in Boston's downtown commercial district. The estimated $700,000 blaze grew to so large a proportion that it nearly endangered the entire downtown area. The fire is as yet of undetermined origin.

Prisoners Are Trapped In Cells In New Mexico

Guardhouse Burns And Effort To Save Prisoners Is Failure

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 9.—(INS)—Fourteen military prisoners perished and two others were critically hurt last night when flames destroyed a guardhouse a quarter mile from an atomic bomb assembly plant near Albuquerque.

Two prison guards were overcome by smoke that billowed from the prison on the Sandia secret weapons base. Thirty other persons, including the base provost marshal and the fire chief, were affected by the smoke and required hospital treatment.

Caused By Faulty Stove

Base officials, who ordered an immediate investigation, said the fire apparently was caused by a faulty oil stove. They denied early reports that an explosion preceded the flames.

The fire leaped swiftly through the frame, barracks-type building, trapping the 16 prisoners in their cells. Major K. K. Kolster said the 14 died of suffocation but were not burned.

Asbestos-garbed firefighters carried them from the L-shaped structure. Kolster said "many" of the prisoners "seemed" alive but died en route to hospitals or after they arrived there.

One of the injured guards, Cpl. Richard A. Miller, said he tried twice to free the men but was driven back by the "blast of heat and smoke."

Miller said:

Couldn't Release Man

"Immediately after the prisoners in the rear cell block shouted 'fire' I ran in and tried to release them but before I could, the blast of

Will Combat Any Attempt By 'Reds' To Seize Berlin

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(European General Manager, I. N. S.)

BERLIN, March 9.—Any Moscow-backed attempt by German communists to seize full control of Berlin will be combatted by the United States even at the risk of war with Russia.

The American position was made clear in interview with Maj. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, U. S. commandant, as well as with high-ranking British officials and Ernest Reuter, mayor of western Berlin.

German communists voiced threats recently to have hundreds of thousands of German "communist youth" invade western sectors at Whitsuntide May 27-29.

Will Be Resisted

There was agreement among the allies that should Soviet-zone communists make such an attempt they will be resisted by all the means at the disposal of western occupation authorities.

International News Service was told by General Taylor that he has the authority "to commit to combat action" U. S. military forces if German police in the western

Final Barrier To Coal Peace Being Lifted

Lewis And Hard Coal Operators In Contract Agreement

WASHINGTON, March 9—(INS)—The final barrier to complete peace in the coal industry is being removed today by the actual draft of a new wage contract for 78,000 anthracite mine workers.

John L. Lewis and hard coal operators reached a "complete agreement" late yesterday on basic terms and it remains only to put the contract in writing for the necessary ratifications.

Both sides declined to discuss details. It is generally believed that the hard coal compact will follow closely the lines laid down in the wage agreement completed Sunday for 400,000 soft coal miners.

Loyalty Files Will Give Facts, Senator Says

By WILLIAM THEIS

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Sen. McCarthy (R) Wis., insisted today that Senate investigators will have to rely on the records to get the name of a "high government official" he accused of protecting a "bad security risk" employe.

McCarthy's statement that he cannot furnish the name himself threatened another clash with Chairman Tydings (D) Md., when the Foreign Relations subcommittee resumes its Communism inquiry this morning.

Then the young Republican, whose charges of Communist activity in the State department are under investigation, hopes to present his second case. Friends indicated this case would strongly support McCarthy's general allegations.

Much Wrangling

Wrangling between McCarthy and Tydings during the first day's hearings permitted McCarthy to get only about one-third of the way through his testimony against Dorothy Kenyon, former $12,000-a-year State department official. He charged that Miss Kenyon had been affiliated with 28 "Communist-front" organization.

McCarthy's continued refusal to name the government official as demanded by Tydings may force a

Million Dollar Loss Reported In Boston Fire

BOSTON, March 9.—(INS)—A general alarm fire whipped through three buildings in Boston early today causing damage set unofficially at more than a million dollars.

The blaze apparently started in the Cook-Vivian building in the city's business section and virtually blasted its way into two adjoining buildings.

The Cook-Vivian building, built in 1868, was one of the few to survive the great Boston fire of 1870.

Destroyed by the flames were the Cook-Vivian Wholesale Paper Co., Thomas & Co., another paper firm, and the Miller Wool Waste Co. The Sager Electric Co., adjoining the flame-seared buildings, was severely damaged by fire, water and smoke.

Five Gunmen Stage $64,000 N.Y. Holdup

NEW YORK, March 9.—(INS)—Five gunmen staged a $64,000 holdup shortly before 10 a. m. (EST) today at a branch of the Manufacturers Trust Co. in Queens.

The bandits seized a bank guard just as he was preparing to open the doors and forced him inside the bank.

Then, as each employe arrived, one of the gang stuck a gun at him and brought him inside to be lined up with the rest of the bank's employes.

Gas Workers In Paris Region Out On Strike

PARIS, March 9.—(INS)—Gas workers in the Paris region defied a government draft order today and walked away from their jobs, imperilling the city's gas supply.

The striking employes left only security workers in the gas plants and pressure in supply lines dropped immediately to a low point.

The government had ordered the military drafting of some 135,000 gas and electric workers in a move to avert a threatened strike.

Electric service in the Paris region and virtually everywhere else in France continued practically normal.

Police forces, augmented by mobile guards, sailors and Republican security guards, occupied all electric power stations and several gas works in the Paris area in accordance with a plan to protect the utilities.

There were no reports of any incidents connected with the walkout of the gas workers.

The Communist-controlled General Labor Confederation, meanwhile, claimed that more than 700,000 persons now are striking in France.

Agreement On Tax Cut Sought

Administration Leaders Meet In Closed Session

By RAYMOND WILCOVE

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Administration leaders meet behind closed doors today in another attempt to agree on the size and nature of a proposed tax cut.

Inability of the majority members of the House Ways and Means committee to agree yesterday was followed by postponement until Monday of the group's plans to begin writing a tax bill today.

Speaker Rayburn (D) Tex., and Majority Leader McCormack (D) Mass., sat in with the tax-writing group as the administration tried to head off a threat that the committee may exceed President Truman's recommendations.

Faces Difficult Tax

The administration apparently faced a difficult task in obtaining an agreement to limit excise tax cuts to the 655 million dollars recommended by Mr. Truman. Several members predicted the excise tax cuts would total one billion dollars or more.

In addition to limiting the size of the tax cut, the administration was anxious to obtain an agreement, or at least an understanding, on the excise taxes which would be repealed or slashed.

One member said he thought it unlikely that any definite agreement would be reached.

The committee is split 15 to 10 along political lines. The Republicans, who generally favor repeal of most all of the wartime excise rates, must garner three Democratic votes to broaden the scope of the legislation.

Some Democrats favor including in the bill excise tax cuts not recommended by the president, but it was not known whether they would be willing to cast aside party ties.

Resume Trial Of Mrs. Madsen

FRANKFURT, March 9.—(INS)—A Frankfurt court trying Brooklyn-born Mrs. Yvette Madsen for the slaying of her air force husband was told today the dark-haired sculptress a few hours after Lt. Andrew Madsen's death demanded to know "what will happen to me?"

Court sessions were resumed following a two-day recess to allow Mrs. Madsen, declared by her father to be "unfit mentally," to recuperate from a collapse last Monday.

Madsen was shot in his apartment last October following a quarrel with his wife at a party. pleaded not guilty at the opening

The beautiful woman defendant pleaded not guilty at the opening of her trial on grounds of temporary insanity and it believed that the defense might appeal for an indefinite postponement on grounds that she is incapable of cooperating.

Prior to the trial she had admitted that she shot her suband when "he laughed at me."

Sharon-Pittsburgh Passenger Trains To Resume Schedules

Passenger trains No. 404 and 405 of the Pennsylvania railroad—from Sharon to Pittsburgh and back—will continue operations beginning Monday, March 13, it is announced by Marion Streett, assistant superintendent of the Lake division.

Morning train from Sharon to Pittsburgh passes through New Castle at 7:12 a. m. Evening train leaves Pittsburgh at 5:35 p. m. and arrives in New Castle at 7:25.

The trains run daily except Sunday.

Both trains were discontinued in compliance with a government order to preserve coal supplies about three weeks ago.

Going To Court To Claim He Is Only 'Jesse James'

By CARL G. CASTEL
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., March 9.—A gentle, white-haired centenarian who claims he is the one and only Jesse James goes to court tomorrow to claim that name against opposition as bitter as the fights that marked the career of the legendary outlaw.

St. Joseph old-timers haven't been so aroused since the morning of April 4, 1882, when a newspaper carried the classic headline—"Jesse, by Jevohah"—over a story which said the bandit had been slain by Bob Ford.

Seeks To Resume Name

J. Frank Dalton, a 103-year-old Texan, has petitioned the circuit court at Union, Mo., to permit him to "resume the name" of Jesse Woodson James because "I was born with that name and I want to die with that name."

Though Union is 200 miles from St. Joseph, three of the latter city's elderly residents are traveling to the court to testify that they knew the real Jesse and identified his body on that day nearly 70 years ago.

They are Mrs. Quantrill Stigers 83; John Roach, 91, and William Stafford, 86. Edgar Eagan, an attorney for Jesse James, Jr., who lives in California, said he will present a deposition for a fourth witness, 91-year-old John Hubbard, who is too ill to travel.

Knew Him Well

Mrs. Stigers told International News Service:

"I knew Jesse James well. I was 15 years old when he was killed and my parents took me to see the body. Jesse had a brown birthmark on his right arm and the second finger of his left hand was cut off.

"Old man Dalton has neighter a birth-mark nor a maimed finger. I know who he is—he is Arkansas Tom Dalton."

John Roach said he delivered the lumber for Jesse's coffin and added:

"The undertaker told me Jesse James was in there on a slab. I couldn't believe it, so he let me in. It was Jesse, all right, and I would have known him without looking for a birthmark. I had seen him many times since I was a small boy."

Students Have Holiday To Greet Titan Victors

Today is Titan Day on the Westminster college campus.

Officials last night announced a half holiday beginning at noon today in order that Westminster's 1200 students might be out to welcome the high-flying Towering Titans back home from their eastern trip which closed the most successful basketball season in many years.

The record breaking Titans, who last night cinched the district championship and already hold one post season tournament bid, were scheduled to arrive in New Wilmington this afternoon.

A delegation of students will meet the Titans nine miles from New Wilmington and escort them back to campus where students will stage an elaborate welcoming ceremony.

The celebration will also serve as a send off ceremony for the Westminster quintet which will leave Friday or Saturday for Kansas City to participate in the NCAB tournament.

The Titan squad being welcomed back today holds the highest number of wins in a single season (24) of any team since basketball became a campus sport 52 years ago.

March is a windy guy, loaded with airs, sometimes a lusty guy, oft debonair, whimsical, careless like, changing his mind, seldom two days in line just of a kind. Threatens the rooves with his gusts and then bing, out comes the sun and you think it is spring. Mornings you wake and the wind shakes the room, winter seems back with his ice covered gloom. Noon gets along and the ice takes a bow. March is behaving more gently and how. March is a windy guy, loaded with airs, never a thought about worry or cares, sunshine and rainstorm and spring zephyrs gay, always a problem, twenty-one, just, today.

Organize New P.T.A. At Tifereth Israel

A newly instituted meeting of the P. T. A., affiliated with Tifereth Israel synagogue, was held March 7 at the home of Rabbi Jules Lipschutz, director of education. The elected officers of the spring term are: Ephraim Solomon, president; Mrs. Israel Solomon, vice president; Mrs. David Nathanson, secretary, and Mrs. William Myers, treasurer.

The P. T. A. will comprise both the daily and Sunday school departments of the religious school and will meet periodically to discuss and fulfill projects of an academic and cultural nature. The next organizational meeting will be held Thursday, April 13, at 8:30 p. m. at Tifereth Israel synagogue. Parents, having children enrolled in the daily and Sunday groups, are asked to register their names with the secretary, Mrs. David Nathanson.

Westminster Team Gets City Escort

Westminster college's Towering Titans received official recognition from the city today for completing the most successful basketball season in the history of the school.

The Titan team was met at the Harlansburg road approaches to the city by a police escort and City Councilman Richard Davis, representing the mayor. A "conquering heroes welcome" was extended and the team escorted through the town and sent on its way to New Wilmington.

At the college, the team was honored by a student celebration and a half-day holiday.

ARGUMENTS TO DR. SANDER JURY ARE BEING MADE

order the group to bed to resume deliberations tomorrow morning.

Testimony Completed

Testimony in the dramatic trial was completed yesterday afternoon after the state had called 17 witnesses and the defense 38 in 13 court sessions.

The defense introduced 16 exhibits, the state three during the trial. The state's chief exhibits were (1) the records of the Hillsborough County General hospital in which Dr. Sander dictated the fact he had injected air; (2) the air syringe used by the doctor, and (3) the enlarged photographs of the left forearm of Mrs. Borroto showing the needle punctures resulting from the injection.

Observers were inclined to the belief that the testimony of Dr. Sander will transcend, in the minds of the jury, all the evidence given, including the medico-legal testimony of medical experts of both the state and defense.

The intellectual-looking, dark-[illegible] told the jury that his mind had snapped on the morning of Dec. 4, when he shot air injections into the arm of Mrs. Borroto. He also declared she was already dead.

"I Was Obsessed"

Dr. Sander said he didn't know why he did it but he told the jury that he never intended to kill the woman—or any patient he had ever attended.

"Why I did it," he said, "I can't tell. I was obsessed. It doesn't make sense. I never had any intent to kill Mrs. Borroto. My conscience is clear."

The handsome and popular doctor said the words he said thereafter were "twisted" with the result that his real motives were misinterpreted. He emphasized he was worried and concerned about his patient, and felt sorry for the suffering her husband, Reginald Borroto, was undergoing.

Dr. Sander declared he never told anybody (and that included Borroto, a retired oil salesman) that he killed, or planned to kill, Mrs. Borroto.

The defense declared that Dr. Sander was thinking of giving assurance that the pain which Mrs. Borroto had conquered during weeks of suffering would not return.

"On the impulse of the moment," the defense asserted, Dr. Sander decided to "do something".

Big Question For Jury

The big question the jury must decide is this: Was Mrs. Borroto dead or still living when he pressed the needle injecting, as the defense claims, about 28 cubic centimeters of air, or 40 C. C.'s, as the prosecution insists?"

Throughout the sensational trial the defense has sought to bring forth a picture of the motives that impelled Dr. Sander to do what he did.

section of the city are unable to cope with the situation.

Troops To Be Alerted

Troops in Berlin will be alerted at strategic points and prepared for immediate action in the spring should Mayor Reuter ask for help.

In addition to the American forces, the British also have approximately 4,500 troops, and this strength probably will be doubled during Whitsuntide. The French have some 2,000 soldiers in the Berlin area.

Able-bodied men among the 2,500,000 Germans in western Berlin also may be called upon by Mayor Reuter in event of an emergency. The mayor declared:

Deaths Of The Day

Mrs. Laura A. Leonard

Mrs. Laura Ault Leonard, aged 79 years, Wampum R. D. 2, died Wednesday at her home after a long illness. Her husband, Howard Leonard, an infant son and two infant daughters preceded her in death.

Born in Wampum R. D. 2 March 26, 1870, she was a daughter of Homer and Kathryn Freed Ault. Mrs. Leonard was a member of one of Lawrence county's pioneer families and was loved for her sweet personality. She was an active member of Newport Methodist church until her health became impaired a few years ago.

Survivors are: one son, Ancell Leonard, at whose home she died; one brother, Frank Ault, of Wampum R. D. 2; three sisters, Mrs. James Allen, Huntington Park, Calif., Mrs. William Wardman and Mrs. Howard Emery, both of Wampum R. D. 2, and three grandchildren.

Rev. J. L. Petrie will officiate at funeral services Saturday at two p. m. from the Marshall funeral home, Wampum, where friends may call today from two to four and seven to nine p. m. and the same hours Friday. Burial will take place in Newport cemetery.

Mrs. Carolina Rowan

Mrs. Carolina Moyer Rowan, 87, former resident of this city, died at her home in Cleveland. She was a daughter of Fred and Mary Schael Moyer, born August 12, 1862, in Middle Lancaster, Pa. She was united in marriage to her first husband, Jacob C. Brenner, on November 15, 1878. He preceded her in death May 12, 1920. PRISONERS TRAPPED IN CELLS IN NEW MEXICO heat and smoked seemed to hit my face. I couldn't breathe.

"I then ran around outside to another door but the same thing happened."

The other injured guard was identified as Pvt. Wilbur Henry.

Three of the structure's four cell blocks were in use. The offenses for which the 16 prisoners were jailed were not immediately made public.

Base firemen fought the flames for 25 minutes before bringing them under control.

A military board of inquiry began an immediate investigation.

The closely-guarded base is located along the eastern limits of this New Mexico city. It was opened for general air force training in 1941.

Shortly after the war, the government announced the base had been transformed into a special weapons project.

The report listed Sandia as a joint army-navy-air force organization giving technical advice and assistance "for the preparation of plans for atomic warfare."

The project maintains active military participation in new weapons designs, developments and production in cooperation with the atomic energy commission, the government said.

Major K. K. Kolster, public information officer at the base, told International News Service:

"It all happened so quickly that you couldn't count to two."

Asbestos-garbed firefighters fought their way into the guardhouse to rescue the prisoners, and the fire was brought under control only 25 minutes after it started.

Kolster said:

"There must have been intense heat in the jail, but the bodies weren't charred at all—just lifeless. They had very few burns on them and the men must have died of suffocation."

He said that about five of the prisoners were in the jail for serious military offenses, and the rest were there for minor infractions of military discipline.

About 4.7 billion pounds of fishery products, valued at nearly $350 million to the fishermen, were caught during 1949.

GOING TO COURT TO CLAIM HE IS ONLY 'JESSE JAMES'

pose Dalton is a longer one, but there are those who believe him. Lee Starnes, a member of the St. Joseph Historical society who had gathered James Lore for 15 years, said:

"I think Dalton is the original Jesse James. I have uncovered evidence that is incredible and found angles in this case that are nothing short of fantastic. A comparison of James photographs with those of Dalton show unmistakable similarity."

And Louis Jacobs, evidence officer on the staff of the prosecuting attorney, said "Dalton told me so many things that I know are true that I am firmly convinced that he's the real Jesse. He told me where he paid the rent on his house in those days and about the grocery store where he traded. My uncle was at the undertakers after the shooting and he said it wasn't Jesse James."

LOYALTY FILES TO GIVE FACTS, SENATOR SAYS

quick showdown on the issue of checking into government loyalty files. The senator, who was a sworn witness, told reporters he would give the committee the name of the State department employe involved, but he added:

"I don't think I can get the name of the high official because it is in the government files. The committee should get the files for that information."

Reserve Officers To Have Election

Annal election of officers will be the principal business at a meeting of the Lawrence County Chapter of the Reserve Officers association tonight at 8 p. m. The meeting will be held in the chapter's rooms on the public square at 8½ East Washington street.

Other important matters to be discussed are the annual observance of National Security Week and a spring dance.

Following the business meeting a new navy film will be shown.

All former officers, whether they are members of the reserves or not, are invited to attend.

POND BULLETIN

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo.—A new multi-purpose pond bulletin will be available for distribution to landowners early this spring according to the Conservation Commission. The publication will include all phases of the pond program and will offer valuable information in the lay-out, construction and management of ponds for many uses, including production of wildlife and fish.

KNEE LACERATED

Leo Kennedy, aged 31 years, of 1403 East Brook street was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital at 5:30 p. m. Wednesday for a laceration of the left knee, received when he fell on the street, cutting himself on a piece of glass.

WIMODAUSIS HEARS AIRLINE HOSTESSES

Preceding an entertaining program, 135 ladies of the Wimodausis enjoyed a dainty St. Patrick's day luncheon on Wednesday afternoon in the main dining room of the Cathedral.

Low bowls of Philodendron graced the tables which were gaily ararnged with shamrocks and silver and green decorative hats. Large green and white balls centered the tables. Mrs. Scott McCaslin offered the invocation. Hostesses were Mrs. H. H. Riley and Mrs. Kenneth Black and their committees.

Afterwards members gathered in the East Lodge room for the program. Mrs. Walter Gilmore, president, presented Mrs. Dale Gardner, chairman of entertainment for the ensuing year who in turn introduced Miss Marie Craig and Miss Virginia Weigers, airline hostesses from American Airlines. They gave a most interesting talk on the convenience and safety of air travel. Mrs. Howard Duff showed pictures of a journey through Mexico and Arizona which met with the approval of the group. Mrs. Gilmore expressed thanks on behalf of the group for the pleasing program.

Business was resumed in the East Lodge room with President Mrs. Gilmore in charge. The meeting was opened with prayer and the Salute to the Flag. The club voted to give $200 to the Red Cross and a monthly donation to the City Rescue Mission. Several new members were welcomed by the prsident.

Wimodausis members will reconvene on April 19 in the Cathedral with the hostesses to be announced.

B.P.W. CLUB HAS MARCH GATHERING

New Castle Business and Professional Women's club enjoyed a dinner meeting Wednesday evening in First Methodist church. A tasty dinner was served at tables, colorful with shamrocks and green and white tapers.

After serving, the Misses Pearl and Grace Lipp pleased by singing three duets with Mrs. Richard K. Allen as accompanist.

Mrs. Bruce Headland, chairman of the health committee, presented Miss Virginia Pierson, home economist of the Pennsylvania Power company, who told the advantages of having a home freezer. Frozen foods look tastier and retain their flavor and vitamines more than those, preserved by other methods, do. Freezing is easier than other methods of preserving food are.

Clay Aubel, of the Pennsylvania Power company, showed the colored moving picture, "Frozen Freshness".

Miss Dorothy Long presided at the business session, when Miss Laura Blutcher, Miss Hazel Grossman and Miss Genevieve Riddle were chosen as delegates to the district convention March 25, at Butler. Miss Evelyn Spencer, Miss Lucille Lutton and Miss Dorothy Long have been selected as alternates.

The club's yearly style show will take place this evening at 8 o'clock in Strouss-Hirshberg's store. The finance committee, of which Miss Helen Keder is chairman, is responsible for arrangements. Next meeting will be held in First Methodist church Wednesday evening, April 12.

Chatter-Ette Club

Members of the Chatter-ette club were welcomed into the home of Mrs. Eva Taylor, Court street, on Wednesday evening.

Five hundred and canasta were the entertaining diversions of the evening, with prizes going to Mrs. Rita Trover and Mrs. Barbara Kornrumpf.

Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, with clever St. Patrick's decorations adding to the festivities.

WHY NO INSPECTION?

Fire Chief Herman Steinbrink said recently concerning the two downtown fires New Castle has experienced, "I believe these fires were caused by defective wiring and I believe we will have more fires in the downtown district if the owners of properties do not have their wiring inspected and improved."

It is a warning which should be heeded. Some years ago the city spent about $8,000 for a building code but the code is more or less inactive, apparently due to the lack of a building inspector.

There are many old buildings in downtown New Castle. It would be a fine thing if some of them could be replaced with modern buildings. But lacking replacement they should be inspected for safety violations, especially electric wiring.

The city was fortunate in both of the recent fires in that no loss of life was incurred because of trapped victims. One death did occur when an aged lady died of a heart attack during the fire in the Dean block.

There is no guarantee that future fires may not cause loss of life. If this can be averted by improving the wiring, it should be done.

The way to start it is to employ a competent building inspector who will see to it that the buildings are made as safe as possible.

CITIZEN SOLUTION

All citizens ought to have their minds at work attempting to solve some of the problems of the country, just as Morris Coover of Kinsley, Kans., has. Coover, a businessman and farmer, has been concerned about the huge surpluses of wheat which he knows will wreck his section of the country if allowed to ride along.

He knows the basic problem is not price propping or taking more land out of production, but finding more markets for wheat. American diplomats seem unable to get in contact with the hungry people abroad who could use the surplus wheat. So Coover conceived the idea of putting more wheat in a loaf of bread.

He talked a bakery into making a loaf containing 16 per cent more wheat than the average loaf. That bakery's sales have increased 75 per cent since the new recipe was adopted. Consumers seem to like it. Coover estimates that on this basis the American people could consume 100,000,000 bushels more wheat than they do now.

Coover originated this idea without help from statesmen in Washington or leaders of organizations. It's a system to be commended to every citizen.

ATTITUDES AND REALITIES

There had been hints of it, and most people had suspected it, but it still comes as somewhat of a jar to hear Air Secretary Symington say that Russia is just about in shape to deliver an A-bomb over here. His reasoning is based on a careful analysis of Russia's success in building atomic missiles and the planes to carry them. There is no firm estimate of the date. It is merely a foregone conclusion drawn from well known facts and military intelligence.

Mr. Symington's air planning staff feels that the Russians have yet to build a plane comparable to the mighty B-36. It is known that they have a certain number of B-29 type planes capable of hurdling the polar areas and bringing their lethal cargoes to the industrial East and Midwest.

Gen. Muir S. Fairchild, vice-chief-of-staff for air, who followed Mr. Symington in testifying before a House committee, added that attack when it comes (he didn't say "if"), will surely be of the atomic variety, and that there is no sure defense against it. This country's salvation, he said, will lie in its ability to deliver a crushing retaliatory blow (presumably atomic). He feels that U. S. air defenses should immediately go on a 24-hour alert.

That is the picture. It doesn't make good reading, but it's better for one's nervous system than some of the scare stuff that has been batted about. The fact is, the testimony —despite the "no defense" statement—shows there are certain measures that can be taken to lessen the chance of a surprise blow.

A radar screen is being erected across the northeastern sectors of the nation as fast as funds are being provided. Screening of all flights that cross the coastlines will be started in the spring. Fighter-director centers are being spotted strategically and the civilian air-spotter network has been revived.

The air force appears concerned but confident. That would seem to be a good attitude for everyone to take.

Credit for the increase in the life span to 67 years goes to medical sceince, not to Washington.

The coal strike, it is pointed out, is not unusual. There have been 3,250 similar walkouts since 1943.

The human race started in caves, it is contended. Some persons are fearful that's where it will wind up.

If Joe Stalin is up on his history, he will recall that another man who tried to take over the world was warned against the ides of March.

The Shah of Iran, opening parliament, says that the standard of the masses in Iran must be raised. How much is that going to cost Uncle Sam?

New European Peace Proposal

An almost "magic formula" for the maintenance of peace in Europe and the real integration of countries driven apart for centuries by carrying traditions and divided loyalties was a major topic of discussion in world chancelleries today.

It was the proposal of West German Chancellor Dr. Konrad Adenauer that the German and French peoples sink their differences for all time, establish a joint republic with the aid and cooperation of Great Britain and the Benelux nations and march hand-in-hand toward peace.

The closest parellel to the Adenauer proposal dates back to the most bitter days of the second World War.

Winston Churchill, a man of infinite foresight and courageous innovation, saw that France was doomed to defeat at the hands of Nazi Germany unless some miracle could be wrought.

Suggested Basis

He suggested the basis for one —an Anglo-French union. He proposed joint citizenship, a single army, a single navy, a combined government, an absolute fusion which would have left nothing but language a barrier between the French and British peoples.

But the situation was too far gone. The French emergecy was too great in 1940 to allow for any sober consideration or studied judgment. The "grand idea" evaporated amid the roar of falling bombs and the rumble of Nazi tanks scarring the soil and soul of France.

From the ethnic and cultural viewpoints there probably is no really valid reason why a Franco-German union could not be established.

The early tribes which ruled Europe were closely intermingled, particularly the Franks of Germany and the Gauls of France. And to this day, Frenchman and German will argue to the bell as to whether Charlemagne, the founder of modern European civilization ,belongs rightly to one nation or the other.

The German will say in defense of his position that the bones of Charlemagne lie in the cathedral at Aachen on the German side of the Rhine. The Frenchman will rereply that throughout much of its long career, Aachen has been known by the Galic name of Aix-La-Chapelle.

One Major Weakness

Perhaps there is one major weakness in Adenauer's historic suggestion.

If so, it is the fact that he springs from the province of Wuerttemberg, close to the borders of France and Switzerland.

For centuries this Germanic province has been subjected to the liberalizing influence of French culture, despite the fact that this has been accompanied by military invasion.

But the fact remains that Adenauer is more or less a "border man". In this respect he resembles Robert Schuman, the foreign minister of France, who hails from Alsace-Lorraine.

For years frontier families such as these have known the worst of war and yet have been, among themselves, the most friendly of all French and Germans.

Little Difference

There is little major difference to be found between the east and west banks of the Rhine, although story-tellers and imaginative travelers will insist upon the mysterious fog that rises and swirls into the hilltops from the river's edge once the border of Germany is crossed.

Many of the residents of the Rhineland—of Baden, Wuerttemberg and the Palatinate—are bilingual. The best of German universities, Bonn and Heidelberg, for example, overlook the soil of France.

While there always was much to be said for the universities of Berlin and Leipzig, for example, it is nevertheless true that serious students and intellectuals have found things more to their liking in western Germany.

How the bulk populations of both France and Germany will react to the Adenauer plan is difficult to determine.

Antipathy is in some areas deep-rooted and sincere. The cult of superiority has been carefully nurtured on both sides through the eras of many conflicts.

Governmental systems are different; mental approaches and emotional reactions are frequently diverse.

But at least Adenauer has taken a step that is certain to fire European imagination. It will make for intellectual conversation and political discussion. Out of such have arisen agreements in the past —as well as rivalry and war.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WHEN CHILD LOSES A PARENT

When our eldest son was about four he had a beautiful utopia which lasted for several years. When anyone in the family expressed concern about need of food or money, he would quickly say: "Up in my country there's lots of money (or food)." One day as he and I saw a man leading a decrepit horse, I said a word of pity about the poor old horse. He replied, "Up in my country horses don't get old and they don't die."

Dr. Maria Nagy published a research in the Journal of Genetic Psychology during 1948: "The Child's Theories Concerning Death." It reported an investigation of how 378 children from three to 10 think of death. She found three stages of development of the meaning of death. (1) Children from three to five deny death as a regular and final process. (2) By children between about five and nine, death is personified. (3) Children at about nine recognize death as a life process, and as inevitable. She concludes: "The theory the child makes of death faithfully reflects at each stage a general picture of his world. To conceal death from the child is not possible and is also not permissible. Natural behavior in the child's surroundings can greatly diminish the shock of his acquaintance with death."

Young Child

Certainly death does not have for the young child the meaning most adults read into him. Whatever emotional sufferings he may have immediately over death, even of a parent, hardly are violently intense if not aroused by uncontrolled emotional expression of adults around him. What he may suffer from most is the loss in physical and emotional security, unless such securities are otherwise provided to a high degree.

The questions concerning death, by the child of any age, should be answered objectively, and in a natural tone and expression in the light of the parent's own beliefs. An answer in terms of some form of immortality is advantageous to the child. An objective answer by the parent to the child is the more desirable in the face of all sorts of morbid, fearful talk this child is likely to hear from older children or stupid adults.

Happy Memories

In case of bereavement, never talk before the child with sorrow over the departed, but only of the joyous, happy memories of him when he lived. One time we spent the night following the burial of an old friend, the mother of her family, at the family's home. The grown son showed a film taken of the mother some months earlier, going happily about the home among the trees and flowers. How wonderful if such a picture could be shown in the bereft home of younger children!

Some years ago Mrs. Myers and I watched a young family develop. We were impressed with the devoted husband-wife and parent-child relationships and with the degree of self-reliance and emotional independence cultivated in the children. When these children were about three and five the mother died. Then we were amazed at how well these little children became readjusted. One day the father told me he sometimes worried because these children did not show the sorrow he had expected of them. I replied that this fact was a tribute to him and the departed mother.

Like this mother, let us as parents so live with our children and so build them up in self-reliance and fitness for security that they will have a minimum of emotional suffering when either parent passes away.

Folks Of Fame

Levi P. Morton, American banker and politician, was born in Shoreham, Vt., May 16, 1824. He was in business at Hanover, N. H., in 1843-49; and in Boston in 1849-54. He then became a partner in a New York drygoods house. In 1863 he established his own banking house with a London branch. He was a Republican representative in Congress in 1879-81; United States minister to France 1881-85; vice president of the United States in 1889-93, and in 1895-96 was governor of New York. He died in Rhinebeck, N. Y., May 16, 1920.

Clara Kimball Young, a star of stage and screen in former years, was born in Chicago in 1899. She began her career as a child of three, with her parents, on the stage. She played in stock, vaudeville and in stage productions. Her screen career began in 1912 with the old Vitagraph company in "My Official Wife." Other screen plays in which she starred were "Camille," "The Yellow Passport" and "The Feast of Life." At the head of her own company she played in "The Foolish Virgin," "The Easiest Way," "The Savage Woman," "The Marionettes," "The Road Through the Dark," "The Claw," "Mid-Channel" and "Straight From Paris."

State Police Say:

Safety is something we can have for the taking, but we haven't enough money to buy it. Witness the millions of dollars that have been spent to develop the safety factors in our modern automobile, the millions of dollars expended to develop our modern super highway. Super cars and super highways will not themselves solve the problem of traffic safety, but safety can be a reality when our drivers begin to appreciate the terrible destructive power of the modern automobile.

ON WITH THE NEW

Leopards And Razors

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

Today's essay has to do with leopards and razors which, even if I do say so myself, shows a commendable change of pace.

Ever since that wild leopard escaped from an Oklahoma City zo and went leoparding around to frighten half the population out of its wits, tht postman has been bringing me letters requesting that I do a story giving complete information as to the best way to catch a runaway leopard.

Seems as if every town with a zoo feels a bit uneasy.

Just why I should be selected as an authority on returning wild animals to their cages is somewhat of a mystery to me, being as the biggest thing I ever killed was a mouse, and I did that with the business end of a broom while standing on a chair.

But in this highly competitive world a columnist cannot afford to let down a single reader, no matter what the request is. So here goes:

Possibly Best Way

Offhand, I would say that the best way to rid a city of a wild leopard on the loose would be to open the lion cage and let a few lions out to roam the highways and byways. Lions and leopards are natural enemies and are certain to get together for a rousing fight, and 99 times out of 100 the lion, being much larger than the leopard, will dispose of him.

Of course, this leaves a few lions ambling about the neighbornood, but there is a cure for that. Go to the tiger cage and free a few of those tawny fellows. They hate lions like poison and will set off for a 15-round bout with maned critters. As a rule, tigers are better fighters than lions and will rid a city of lions.

Now the city will be cleared of leopards and lions, with nothing but the big cats roaming free, wide and handsome. But that is none of my business. All my readers asked about were leopards, so I feel under no obligation to discuss the best way to catch tigers.

Shave Anywhere

As for razors, an anonymous donor has sent me an electric one, and it has completely changed my way of life. I used to do my shaving in the bathroom, but no more. As soon as I mastered the mechanics of the electric fellow I went to the hardware store and bought me 100 feet of electrical cord which, with the cord that came with the razor, enables me to shave almost anywhere on my property.

I shave when I am mowing the lawn, when I am washing the car, when I am eating, and when I am watering the flowers. The electric razors throws off such a fine dust of whiskers that they are hardly noticeable, even when they settle on an omelette or a pork chop. In fact, my whiskers, being a lovely shade of red, look better than paprika on most foods and have a tangy taste that is only slightly less than exotic.

I'll admit that my neighbors consider me crazy for shaving out of doors, but there is always a chance that they are right.

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

(By International News Service)

Britain may have beaten us to a jet-propelled automobile but we've got a taxpayer-propelled car coming out over here.

Our new model will sell at a price we could afford out of the right-hand pocket if the left-hand pocket wasn't already paying for it.

Anyway the British can have the jet-propelled car . . . what we need is a jet-propelled pedestrian.

It's getting so that while you're waiting for the light to change three bookies will quote odds that you don't make it . . . and three drivers will cover the bet.

I don't think it's really true that in Los Angeles the cars go up on the sidewalks after pedestrians they miss at cross walks, but in New York there are people who won't go anywhere they can't reach by tunnel.

To bring a jet-propelled car into this situation would be like offering a mouse an improved trap.

But I will say that if the mouse liked it the RFC would finance it.

Just Folks

LIFE IS LONG

Is there another life than this?
If not, then this be vain,
And vain the far-flung goal we miss,
And vain the one we gain.

Unless the soul immortal be,
And there is more to learn,
And more with clearer sight to see,
Then vain is all we learn.

If life end here, then it is plain
The oldest wait to grieve,
To suffer loneliness and pain.
The blest are first to leave.

'Tis faith alone that keeps us strong!
That faith when hope seems gone;
That death is brief and life is long
And somewhere we live on.

Inside Washington

MARCH OF EVENTS

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON, March 9.—American scientists are on the way to solving one of their toughest problems in connection with supersonic flight—practical use of the terrifically powerful ram-jet engine.

The ram-jet is the simplest of the supersonic power plants, but it will not operate at speeds under 500 miles per hour.

It has no moving parts. It needs only a tremendous inrush of air for compression and ignition to provide an escaping mass of air rearward to give the plane great forward thrust.

Problem has been getting the ram-jet up to speeds where masses of air enter the open nose. Until recently scientists were working on the idea of carrying the ram-jet aloft under the wings of aircraft propelled by other engines up to the 500 miles per hour mark.

Now a combination ram-jet-rocket power plant is on the drawing boards. The rocket power, limited in endurance, is used for take-off and propelling the plane to high speed quickly At this point the ram-jet takes over.

BLACK GOLD BLACK MARKET—Reports circulating in Washington indicate that the soft coal strike has produced a rash of black markets where the asking price for the fuel is 20 to 40 per cent above the regular market.

Coal flowing into these illicit channels is said to be coming from non-union strip mines and, in some cases, from smaller mines whose owners have met John L. Lewis' new wage terms.

Apparently none of the blackmarketeers are big time operators. With the coal shortage as stringent as it is, they seem to have been able to get only small amounts for their under-the-table traffic.

In fact, individual back-door dealers are such small fry that the government hasn't bothered to do anything about them. Any serious diversion of the scant fuel supply might yet bring federal action.

SECURITY VS. DEMOCRACY—Citizens who froth when a new spy or informer is turned up sometimes fail to think of the difficulties inherent in attaining maximum security for vital national secrets without treading on guaranteed democratic rights.

Testimony in public trials like those of United States Communist leaders and of Valentin Gubitchev and Judith Coplon has shown clearly how difficult it is for United States spy hunters to seek and establish court system with its protection of a defendant's rights. Protection of an individual's rights is not one of the major concerns of Russia's secret police.

HIRSUTE ADORNMENT—Rep. Cleaveland M. Bailey (D), West Virginia, has vowed to grow a mustache until the House education and labor committee reports out the federal aid to education bill. The mustache stands out like a sore thumb on the congressman's face, because Bailey doesn't have too much hair on top of his head.

The West Virginian said that he had contemplated growing a beard as a challenge to his committee to terminate its deadlock and do something about federal aid to education.

Bailey wistfully added, however, that the beard probably would grow so long that he would find it difficult to walk.

So he compromised on a mustache.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

This was the heading:

"London Town Crier Tells World of Coming Election."

I read on. I smiled. I clipped the item. I was going to write a column making fun of it.

Aren't those British funny? They just can't get over their old-fogeyism! How they cling to all their old stuff whether it fits into the 20th century or not! I was going to say all that.

But now, that I am sitting at my typewriter, it seems that it isn't funny at all. To the contrary, there seems to be a lot of good sense to it, just like a lot of the "funny" things the British do are really quite sensible.

According to this news item the Town Crier of the City of London told his townsmen—and the world—that there is going to be a general election.

Everybody had known about it for months. Candidates have been campaigning all over the country.

But until the Town Crier announced it, it was not official. Now it is.

This Town Crier, wearing his medieval robes, including cocked hat, knee breeches and silver-buckled shoes, read out the proclamation of King George VI, from the steps of one of the buildings in "the City", London's financial district.

But this time he did his reading into a radio microphone that carried the proclamation to all parts of the British Empire.

At first the whole business seems silly ,doesn't it?

Why all that old-fashioned rigamarole in these days of rapid communication? Why all the fancy get-up?

There is something in Britain—and indeed in all Europe—of which we could use considerably more: TRADITION.

Don't get me wrong. I don't mean the kind of tradition of which I talked a couple of days ago when I told you about that Bristol ghost.

Tradition based on superstitition and fear is foolish.

But traditions which are like the roots that go deep into the ground and give the tree strength and vitality are not only justified but essential.

Why do so many thousands of tourists go to Europe every year and visit the places from which their ancestors came?

They go not only to have a good time, but because at the birthplace of their family they drink from a fountain the content of which is a character-tonic.

They go also to admire the old buildings, the old monuments, the old customs, the old thoroughness that are the foundations on which TODAY was built.

Sometimes I wish we here in America weren't so quick to tear down.

Away with the old—on with the new! That seems to be our spirit, a spirit that may have been all right for the early days of our country when there was not yet a solid foundation.

With the preservation of our landmarks that served us so well in our country's youth, we might also preserve some of the ideals that made it great.

Perhaps we, too, could use a Town Crier—with a microphone.

And Nothing Can Be Done About It : BY H. T. WEBSTER

Charge Federal Agency With 'Political Meddling'

HARRISBURG, March 9.—(INS)—A charge of "political meddling" was hurled at the federal social security administration for threatening to cut off relief assistance from Pennsylvania unless the state bonus is assessed against ex-servicemen on relief.

The protest was sent to the national office of the agency by the Pennsylvania Joint Veteran Council, representing nine veterans' organizations with a membership of 800,000.

Pennsylvania receives $54,000,000 a year from the federal government for relief. If the money is withheld, the state's own $161,000,000 relief allocation would be dried up before the biennium end in May, 1951. A special session of the legislature possibly would be necessary to sanction additional relief funds.

Inject Politics

"It is obvious to us that this 'threat' to penalize veterans, who for temporary reasons must seek public assistance, is a move on the part of the federal government to inject itself into the political campaign now underway in Pennsylvania," the council stated.

"If such action was contemplated on the part of the federal government it should have taken form before this current political campaign got underway in Pennsylvania—it should have been done during the legislative stages of the act providing for payment of the compensation four or five years ago and not when the offices of governor and a United States senator are at stake," the protest stated.

The council said the commonwealth took veterans on relief out of the political picture by Attorney General T. McKeen Chidsey's ruling providing for bonus payment even though a veteran may be getting relief payments.

If the bonus is declared an income, the veteran on dole automatically would be dropped for a period of time based on the amount of his bonus check.

The G. I. insurance dividend has been declared subject to seizure by a federal ruling.

Insist On Consistency

"We insist that the federal government be at least consistent, as Pennsylvania's government has been consistent in this matter, and permit unencumbered payments of the bonus whether or not the veteran is receiving relief payments," the council said.

"The federal government apparently, under this new threat, is politically favoring the veteran fortunate enough to have an income great enough to put him in a taxable bracket by eliminating his bonus as 'taxable income' but penalizing the less fortunate veteran by either taking his bonus or withholding his public assistance payments."

The council said veterans are getting the bonus for wartime activities and not for their actions since the war.

Veteran organization commanders said the legislation of the bonus was hammered out in the 1945 and 1947 general assemblies and the public approved it in 1949.

Suddenly Come To Life

"All this time the officials of the federal security administration had time to study the actions of Pennsylvania's lawmakers and its voting public. We heard nothing. But now that a political campaign is about to open they suddenly come to life," the council asserted.

The council pointed out that the U. S. treasury declared the bonus not subject to income tax and the commonwealth ruled it to be illegal seizure to count the bonus against relief payments.

"But two FSSA agents came into Pennsylvania from the state of New York, to declare the adjusted compensation, the bonus to be declared as ordinary income, and that those veterans who take it must be dropped from public assistance rolls—after five full years they come to life—during a major election year," the council charged.

"We believe that the payment of the Pennsylvania adjusted compensation to veterans of World War II now, regardless of any receipts of public assistance payments, will prove a boon to both the commonwealth and the federal government in that it will provide added assistance to the individual to pay debts he could not reach with monies received from the relief checks and it will give a moral and mental lift toward a renewed start in life."

MOURNING FOR IN-LAWS

Question: Should a wife wear mourning for her husband's mother?

Answer: She should wear black but not necessarily crepe. This should be worn for the length of time during which her husband wears mourning. The husband should show like respect for his wife's family.

Question: Please tell me if it is proper for one's immediate family to give showers, teas, etc. in the bride's honor. (2) Is it proper to give a housewarming for oneself? If not, by whom should it be given and should gifts be expected?

Answer: Showers should be given by friends, not relatives of the bride and groom. A tea or other party at which no presents are expected may correctly be given by the relatives of the bride and groom.

(2) It is, indeed, proper to give oneself a housewarming. When people move into a new home or have extensive decoration done they usually invite their friends to inspect the house and make a party of the event. It is customary for guests to take gifts.

Question: My daughter will be married soon. Her fiance's mother, sister and nephew, all of whom live out of town, will attend the wedding. Even though I know they will attend should I send invitations to them?

Answer: Yes. Send invitations to all members of the groom's family, including his immediate family.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

Today's Fashion Flash

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK March 9.—(INS)—Designer Adrian assured women today that there'll be no "hysterical fashion changes in the next half century.

He said:

"Skirts for daytime will never be longer than 13 or 14 inches from the floor. And the American woman can—for once—feel secure that her trim square-shouldered suit will be as familiar 50 years from now as it is today."

Adrian, always a reliable reporter of trends, made his prediction at a New York showing of his 1950 spring collection, in which he advocated slender mid-calf skirts, easily slim waistlines and well-padded, squared-off shoulders.

Reminding women that even during the exaggerated "new look" he stayed true to the slim, sturdy feminine silhouette, Adrian added:

"The attempt to insinuate a violent change in shape in our modern time died with the 'new look'. Fashion has now caught up with the pace of our modern way of life, and it will not change drastically again!"

Tokyo Takes Risk Out Of Eating Seafood Delicacy

By ROBERT Y. HORIGUCHI
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

TOKYO—(INS)—The eating of puffer—once described as the Japanese version of "Russian roulette"—is to be made safe by law.

For centuries past, Japanese seafood fanciers literally took their lives between the tips of their chop-sticks when they picked up a slice of puffer and ate it.

Unless prepared by an expert cook, puffer meat can be deadly poisonous.

Tokyo's city fathers now have passed an ordinance requiring cooks handling this variety of fish to qualify for their jobs by undergoing a stiff municipal examination. Those ignoring this ruling are liable to a two year term at hard labor or a 50,000 yen ($138.88) fine.

Gourments with an adventurous bent insist that the puffer—also known as the ballon or globe-fish—has a taste unequalled by any other denizen of the seas. Some compare it to chicken, others to very fine cuts of veal.

They eat it raw, with a hot sauce, or cooked.

Scientists, investigating how puffer meat can kill, established that the fish's bile contains a poison known as the balloon or globe-fish—they say, gets into the blood stream contaminating the whole fish unless expert care is taken in cleaning the puffer.

Tetrotoxin has been known to kill a man in about 10 minutes.

This has led to some guests invited to puffer dinners to turn up late. The idea is to use early comers as food testers.

Congressman Assails Stand Of Acheson

WASHINGTON, March 9—(INS)—Rep. Judd (D) Minn., accused Secretary of State Acheson face-to-face Wednesday of undermining the state department and his own usefulness as a cabinet member by his defense of Alger Hiss.

The Minnesotan flung his accusation at the secretary during a heated exchange in the house foreign affairs committee. Judd criticized the state department's policy in the far east and declared:

"I deplore the low state to which the state department has fallen throughout the country but nobody has done as much as the secretary himself to undermine the department and nobody had done more to undermine his own usefulness as a brilliant and able man by his public press conference statement."

Judd obviously referred to Acheson's news conference statement in which the secretary said he would not "turn his back" on Hiss, who was convicted of lying when he said he did not turn over state department secrets to a communist.

Acheson turned red as Judd attacked him but made no audible comment. Chairman Kee (D) W. Va., quickly called the next witness, Marshall plan director Paul G. Hoffman.

There are two things which call forth an instictive fear response from human beings—and these are a sudden loud sound and a sudden loss of support.

French Spokesman Says Proposal Unfortunate

By JOHN CAMSELL
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, March 9.—A French spokesman declared today that the proposal by West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer for a Franco-German union is "most unfortunate and regrettable."

The proposal was made in the course of an exclusive interview with Kingsbury Smith, European general manager of International News Service, at Bonn, Germany.

The French spokesman, a close associate of French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman, now on a visit to London, objected strenuously to the condition of Adenauer that return of the rich Saar coal region to Germany is a prerequisite to any union.

He declared that Adenauer is in no position to make an offer of a union until a peace treaty is written.

The spokesman said that while France will try to forget the past it is impossible to eradicate previous Franco-German relations and that they must be improved progressively.

Radical Suggestion

The Adenauer suggestion was described as radical and the spokesman said he believed it will cause an unfortunate reaction in Paris.

In his statement to Smith, Adenauer held out to France an offer of complete union as a way of settling all differences between France and Germany over the Saar and other problems.

Adenauer also suggested it as a basis for a United States of Europe.

In Paris Edouard Bonnefous, president of the National Assembly Foreign Affairs committee, said he personally doubted that Europe can be built up by a bilateral accord such as a Franco-German union.

He declared that a council of Europe is the only hope for construction of a united Europe but also said:

"Adenauer has an excellent opportunity to show his willingness to construct a united Europe by fully adhering to the council of Europe and proving the willingness of the German people to participate in it through participation of all German parties in the German delegation."

Needs Careful Study

A high spokesman for the British Foreign office said:

"It is extremely interesting and an extraordinary broad project. Obviously it affects many countries and needs careful consideration at the highest level.

"It is likely that the cabinet will discuss it at the first opportunity."

The text of the Adenauer proposal was sent to British Foreign Secretary Bevin and to French Foreign Minister Schuman by the foreign office. Both are in London.

The historic proposal of Adenauer to end the traditional rivalry between France and Germany came at a time when political tension is high as a result of France's acquisition of 50 years of special privileges in the Saar coal basin.

The West German chancellor told INS:

"A union of France and Germany would give new life and powerful impulse to a very sick Europe. Psychologically and materially it would have a tremendous influence and would release forces which certainly would save Europe.

"I think it is the only possibility of achieving unity in Europe. With it the idea of rivalry between the two countries would disappear."

Dorothy Kenyon Denies Affiliation With Communists

NEW YORK, March 9.—(INS)—Dorothy Kenyon, former state department official accused by Sen. McCarthy (R) Wisc., of being affiliated with 28 Communist front groups said she "never heard of most of them."

She denied the Wisconsin Senator's charges and declared he is "taking refuge in his congressional immunity to attack innocent people."

Miss Kenyon, 62, resigned from her post as a member of the U. S. Delegation on the U. N. Commission on the status of women last January 1, at the expiration of her three year term.

Replying to Senator McCarthy's charges, made before the Tydings committee in Washington, Miss Kenyon said in a statement:

"Let him ask Madame Popova, the USSR Delegate to the commission on the status of women in the U. N. whether she thinks I am pro-Communist or not.

"She and I have fought continously on that commission and I have carefully explained that the touted equality in Russia is nothing but the equality of slave."

Miss Kenyon said she never met Paul Robeson, Bernhard J. Stern, Anna Louise Strong or the Red Dean of Canterbury, Hewlett Johnson. McCarthy had charged that she "collaborated" with them.

Railroads Recalling Furloughed Workers

PHILADELPHIA, March 9.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania railroad and Reading company are recalling thousands of furloughed workers.

The recall began yesterday after the Interstate Commerce Commission relaxed schedule curtailments enacted during the soft coal strike.

The Pennsylvania announced that by the end of the week working forces would be back to normal in maintenance of way and maintenance of equipment divisions. The road had furloughed approximately 15,000 during the peak of the layoff.

Reading annonuced that employment was returning to normal rapidly. It had furloughed 1,400. The Baltimore & Ohio railroad reported 6,161 workers are being recalled.

KNOXVILLE. — (INS)—Drinking fruit juice between meals will help any worker "do better" on his job, if adults react the same way as pre-school children tested on mid-morning snacks. Dr. Mary Elizabeth Keister, head of the University of Tennessee Nursery School, found that when small children have fruit juice in the middle of the morning they are not tired and show less irritability and tension for the next few hours.

Jaquish Talks To Kiwanis Club

Local Manager Tells Of New Inventions

Three of some 17,000 inventions which have been developed by the Bell Telephone company in the last 74 years, but which have a tremendous bearing on present day telephone conversations, were explained by N. N. Jaquish, local manager of the Bell Telephone company, in a talk before the New Castle Kiwanis club Wednesday noon in The Castleton.

Experiments showing the way in which these new little gadgets work for the benefit of telephone users were conducted by Mr. Jaquish to make the talk more easily understood.

The first of these was a crystal of quartz, which telephone engineers have found can be vibrated at a high rate of speed, a million times a second. This enables the telephone company to send hundreds of messages over a single wire without mixing them up, by separating these vibrations into wave bands.

Another invention is known as a thermister, a small piece of material, highly sensitive to changes in temperature, which helps keep long distance conversation on a more even keel.

The last was a tiny tube, which is about the size of a shoe lace, known as a transistor, which supplants the more unwieldy vacuum tube, and amplifies sound a hundred fold.

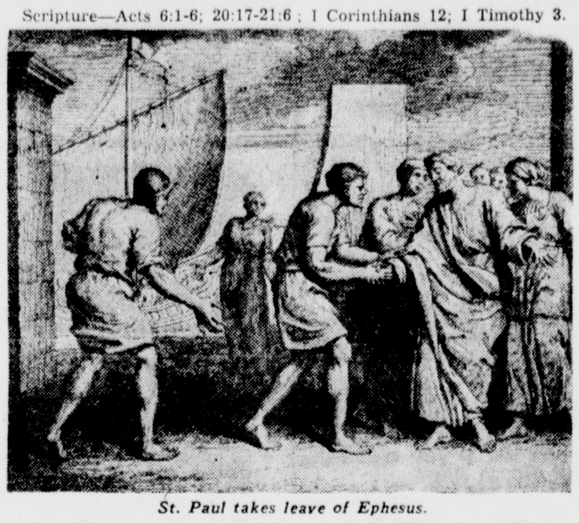
All these have been recently developed in Bell laboratories, where a continuing process of experiments is conducted by Bell employes to improve the great telephone system of the nation, Mr. Jaquish stated in nclusion.

Bright's disease is twice as common among men as it is among women.

PAUL LEAVES EPHESUS

CHURCH ELDERS WEEP AS HE DEPARTS

Scripture—Acts 6:1-6; 20:17-21:6 ; I Corinthians 12; I Timothy 3.



St. Paul takes leave of Ephesus.

"Give diligence to present thyself approved unto God, as a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, handling aright the word of truth." —II Timothy 2:15.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

"Parting is such sweet sorrow," William Shakespeare says of lovers' partings. Partings are far from being always sweet, even when those who are parted expect to meet again. To many million people in the world today it has been and is trgedy and grief.

So many sons, husbands, brothers; sweethearts marched away to war, never to return or came back crippled. Families have been driven from their homes and put to death; or seperated never to be reunited. God comfort those who have so suffered!

St. Paul had endeared himself to the disciples at Ephesus. As we were told in our last lesson, he had set his heart on going to Jerusalem for the Pentecost—the great feast time. He knew that he might be arrested and thrown into prison, or even killed, but he felt God wanted him to go.

From Miletus, further down the coast from Ephesus, where he had gone first, Paul sent to Ephesus and called the church elders to him. When they were assembled, he reminded them of his coming to them, and how he had preached to and taught both Jews and Gentiles.

"And now, behold, I go bound in spirit unto Jerusalem, not knowing the things that shall befall me there," he said. "And now, behold, I know that ye all, among whom I have gone preaching the kingdom of God, shall see my face no more."

He warned them that after he had gone "grievous wolves" would enter the church, false teachers who would try to lure the people away from Christ, and some within the church itself who "will fall away from the truth, and draw disciples after them."

The address (too long to repeat here), was dramatic, filled with deep feeling and warnings of what this church should look for and forestall. And then Paul kneeled down and prayed with them all, and they fell on his neck and kissed him goodbye.

At Tyre helooked up disicples, and stayed seven days. These disciples told him he should not go to Jerusalem. When he was leaving Tyre all the disciples, with their wives and children, went to the shore to see him sail. All knelt on the beach while Paul prayed, "And we went on board the ship, but they returned home."

This was the close of Paul's third missionary journey. In fact it was his last missionary journey, because most of the time after this he was in custody—"protective custody," as it is called now, although he did have a brief period of liberty.

The first reference in our lesson concerns the church in Jerusalem before Paul became a convert and started his great work. You remember that the Christian members shared and shared alike in all things, the richer casting in their belongings with the poorer.

Certain Greeks among them complained that their widows were not receiving their share. The 12 apostles called a meeting and said they felt they could not leave their preaching, praying and "ministry of the word" to attend to these things. They asked that the congregation choose seven good men—outstanding men—to take care of the matter.

The whole multitude—in democratic manner—choose seven—Stephen first of all, he who was afterwards stoned to death—the first Christian martyr.

When they had chossen seven and the men were standing before the apostles—Stephen, Philip, Prochorus, Nicanor, Timon, Parmenas and Nicolas (all Greeks), the apostles "laid their hands on them and prayed," dedicating them to the work.

So carefully and democratically the founders of the Christian church chose their ministers in the very beginning.

Paul, writing to Timothy, who was at Ephesus, in after years, advised him of the necessity of selecting men of good moral character—not drunkards, nor polygamists, nor money lovers—to serve as bishops and deacons in the organizing of their churches. He even mentioned the wives of these officers of the church: "Even so must their wives be grave, not slanderers, sober, faithful in all things."

Such according to St. Paul, was the type of man and wife to become leaders of the church of God. The advice is as pertinent oday as it was then.

Coroner Absolves Official Of Blame

PHILADELPHIA, March 9.—(INS)—Coroner Joseph Ominsky has absolved director of public welfare Sara S. McNeil of responsibility in the steam cell death of Irving Miller, 39-year-old inmate of the House of Correction in Philadelphia.

A coroner's jury Tuesday recommended prosecution of Mrs. McNeil and seven employes of the House of Correction on charges of criminal negligence in connection with Miller's death last Dec. 28.

Ominsky said he was convinced there was no criminal negligence on the part of Mrs. McNeil. He added she was "too remote from the entire picture and we do not feel that a jury would indict her for any criminal negligence".

First assistant district attorney James W. Tracey, Jr., said he would confer today with district attorney John H. Mauer on the next move in the case.

Chinese Repel Hainan Attack

TAIPEI, Formosa, March 9.—(INS)—Chinese Nationalist defenders of Hainan were reported Wednesday to have smashed a Communist amphibious force of 500 men that landed Monday at Tanhsien on the west coast of the huge island off south China.

Nationalist sources on Formosa island said 400 of the invading Communist were "destroyed" while the remaining 100 escaped to join Red guerilla forces operating inland in the Tanhsien area.

MISSIONARY MEETING

Postponed from last week's scheduled meeting in the church on account of the coal shortage, the members of the Woman's Missionary society of the Presbyterian church met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. W. Marshall on Main street. Mrs. John Cunningham was a special guest.

Mrs. E. L. Hennon was the devotional leader and gave several short readings. Mrs. L. J. Overlander presented the national topic and Mrs. Pearl Dindinger discussed the foreign theme.

A most interesting talk on Japan in ancient times was given by Mrs. J. D. Shelatree, who displayed numerous souvenirs in conjunction with her address. This is the first of a series of talks that will be given by Mrs. Shelatree at the missionary meetings.

Routine business was conducted. At the close of a social period the hostess served delicious refreshments.

WAMPUM NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wilheim and children of East Palestine spent the weekend with Mrs. Wilheim's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Marshall, of Main stret.

Harry Allen, who has been ill for the past few weeks, has been brought back to his home from the Ellwood City hospital, where he was taken the first of the week for observation. Mr. Allen is reported to be improving as well as can be expected.

Munhall Church Is Destroyed By Fire

MUNHALL, Pa., March 9.—(INS)—A fire which broke out in the altar boys' sacristy in the vicinity of electrical meters left St. Margarets' Roman Catholic church in Munhall in ruins today.

The blaze was discovered during the night by Paul Gulyas, a janitor, who said he was sleeping in the basement and heard a rushing sound.

Four Munhall companies and all available equipment from surrounding areas were sent to the scene. No one was injured.

The Rev. Dr. Stephen D. Nyiri, pastor, estimated damage at about $40,000.

Malone Ready To Quit Post

State Relief Burden Largely Increased

HARRISBURG, March 9.—(INS)— Allegheny County Chairman James F. Malone, Jr., is ready to turn over his $10,000 a year state insurance commissioner's job as soon as he gets the word from Governor Duff. . . . Malone and Duff came to the parting of the ways over the gubernatorial candidate for 1950. . . . Col. Jay Cooke has Malone's support while Duff, anti-organization candidate for the U. S. Senate, has chosen ex-State Superior Court Judge John S. Fine as his running mate. . . . Malone, who has cleared his state capitol office of personal effects, once hinted publicly that he would not quit the cabinet thus making it clear that he must be dismissed. . . . Malone has said he favors Duff's candidacy. . . . If Malone leaves the cabinet, it will mean that his patronage in Allegheny County will be taken away. . . . The departure of Malone would mark the third resignation of a cabinet officer as a result of differences with Duff. . . . The others were Commerce Secretary Orus J. Mathews and Revenue Secretary David W. Harris.

Pennsylvania's relief burden, approaching the 500,000 person mark, is about equal to the load borne by the Commonwealth in the fall of 1942. . . . While relief rolls have been on the increase since the summer of 1945, they are not expected—barring a major economic setback—ever to reach the 2,200,000-person mark registered in the spring of 1932 when unemployment relief was transferred to the Commonwealth by local agencies. . . . In the winter of 1938-39 relief payments were made each month to approximately 1,800,000 persons. . . . In the spring of 1939, started the downward trend which continued through war years and ended in the summer of 1945.

While the general election will be held November 7, the ballotting will not be official until November 27, according to the state elections bureau. . . . That is the last day to contest in the courts the election of any candidate chosen at the general election . . . but members elected to the House and Senate can always be called for investigation should the occasion warrant. . . . Both bodies are the sole judge of their respective memberships. . . . During the 1949 session, two men elected to the House had their qualifications challenged and it took a special committee to settle the matter and admit them to membership. . . . In the Senate, the last wrangle over membership involved a Pittsburgher in 1939. . . . Republicans, regaining control of the upper chamber after four years, unseated a Democrat whose county job was held to be incompatible with his senatorial duties.

The men elected governor, lieutenant governor and internal affairs secretary in the November 7 general election will be the highest paid in their respective posts since the Commonwealth was founded. . . . The next governor will receive $25,000 a year compared with the $18,000 now paid. . . . The lieutenant governor will get $15,000—an annual increase of $7,000—while the internal affairs secretary will be paid $15,000 or $5,000 more each year. . . . It will also mark the first time when the next administration is formed that all cabinet officers receive equal pay, $15,000 a year each. . . . Pay inequities have existed among cabinet officers for many years. . . . It was not too long ago that the state highway chief engineer was paid $2,000 a year more than the head of the department.

Citizen Of World To Return To U.S.

PARIS, March 9.—(INS)—Garry Davis, who surrendered his American citizenship to become a "citizen of the world," is coming home as a "stateless person."

The 28-year-old wartime bombardier and son of well-known orchestra leader Meyer Davis applied for an American immigration visa and was informed there was "every indication" it would be granted before March 17.

Davis said he plans to sail for the United States on the freighter "Saint Bernard."

If he receives an American visa it will enable him to once again become a citizen of the United States—after a five year period.

But Davis said he will continue as a world citizen although organizational plans in America are "indefinite." He added:

"After almost two years in Europe, reason, conscience and instinct unite to tell me that my personal work here for the moment is finished."

Davis gave up his U. S. citizenship in May, 1948 and several months later became something of a cause celebre just as the United Nations prepared to meet in Paris.

OUTDOOR RAMBLES with N. R. CASILLO

SCREECHY

The chill, early March air was shattered by the excited chatter of sparrows and by the less frequent alarm chirps of robins. From the vantage point of a dining room window over-looking the garden, I observed four or five plump robins with feathers fluffed and shoulders hunched, perched on the cross bars of a rose arbor. About them bustled a dozen or so sparrows chattering for all they were worth. But the cause for their alarm was not located there for in a moment they dashed to a nearby martin house and began circling it, all the while scolding like the most ardent shrews. Unconcernedly hunched on the topmost platform of the house was the object of their excitement and clamor. It was Screechy, the screech owl.

Shortly after dusk I discovered that Screechy had departed, so I got out a ladder, carefully slanted it against the martin house and preceded aloft for a detailed investigation. When my eyes reached the level of the third story platform, I ducked in alarm as a ball of feathers hurtled from the door and winged off into the darkness. My flashlight revealed four white eggs; evidence enough that a pair of owls had taken possession, and more than likely I had disturbed the incubating female.

In a few nights I became more or less accustomed to the quavery tremolo that was Screechy's spooky love song. Indeed, it was an indication that all was well with the owl family, and in some mysterious manner caused a feeling of contentment to pervade me whenever I heard it. Frequently, one or two of the ghostly arias were sufficient to plunge me into peaceful slumber.

I shall never forget the night when the highly capricious winds of March were tearing through the trees about the house, causing them to moan and groan like so many anguished beings. Shortly afterwards the winds were reinforced by a driving, sleety snow and an extremely low temperature. The elements had combined until it seemed as if a thousand Furies were unleashed. Above it all I suddenly discerned the shivery love song of the shivering owl, as it is so aptly called in the south. All night long it continued, a mournful and spectral accompaniment to the lashing storm. No wonder its song is considered by many to be an omen of evil!

On a typically bleak afternoon, a few days before the termination of the eggs' incubation period, I was galvanized into action by the insistent and angry screams of a pair of blue jays. When I reached a convenient window I saw one of the handsome birds dive into a clump of conifers, screaming in a most blood-curdling manner; the other perched on the top of a small pine was burning the raw air with a variety of expletives. Shortly, I saw the cause of all the excitement. Sleepily hugging the trunk of a dense spruce was Screechy himself. Then, from the corner of my eye I saw a streak of blue shoot from the martin house. I quickly turned and perceived a third jay furtively and guiltily disappearing into a nearby thicket.

All this unbecoming reticence caused me to be apprehensive, so I rushed out, hurriedly placed the ever-ready ladder and went aloft. My fears were confirmed. The mother was absent and every single one of the four eggs had been frightfully cracked and pecked by that sneaky dandy. Then, fearing the return and wrath of the mother, he had left without eating a single morsel of the grisly feast. The jay is a great tormentor of Screechy's clan.

That night I was certain that the dolefully mournful cry that shivered through the frosted air was not of love, but one of grief and mourning.

Stewardess Victim Of Plane Crash Was Soon To Be Married

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 9.—(INS)—Miss Mary Alice Kenedy, stewardess who died in the Northwest Airlines plane crash at Minneapolis, Minn., was to be married next month.

Miss Kennedy's fiance, William Stout Jr., was among those at the scene of the disaster. He apparently was enroute to meet Miss Kennedy at the airport when the plane dived into a residence.

Stout's parents live in Pittsburgh. An employe of a Minneapolis hardware company, Stout tried to break through police lines and officers said he was hysterical. Later, Stout walked away in an apparently dazed condition.

Miss Kennedy live in St. Paul, Minn.

DuPont Sales Pass One Billion Mark

WILMINGTON, Del., March 9.—E. I. Du Pont de Nemours sales passed the one-billion-dollar mark in 1949 for the first time in peacetime history.

The firm's annual report disclosed that sales last year totaled $1,025,000,000, or six per cent larger than the previous record year of 1948.

Auto Workers Refuse Loan

Turn Down Lewis Million Loan Offer

DETROIT, March 9—(INS)—The CIO-United Auto Workers on Wednesday turned down John L. Lewis' offed of a one-million-dollar loan to help finance the Chrysler strike but said it would be glad to accept an "outright contribution."

UAW President Walter Reuther wrote the mine workers chief that his union has ample funds to support the six-week-old strike of 89,000 Chrysler workers, and does not anticipate having to borrow any money.

He thanked Lewis for his "expression of solidarity" and added:

"We would be happy, of course, to accept . . . any outright contributions you or your organization may wish to make."

He said any such gift would be distributed to local unions for direct relief to Chrysler strikers and their families. Reuther reminded Lewis of collections of food and money made by individual UAW unions for shipment to needy miners during the recent strike.

Shaker Heights, O., a model community of well-to-do families and wealthy apartment houses, got its name from the religious sect of Shakers—a frugal group—who first settled there.

MATE GONE 32 YEARS

HAMILTON, O., March 9—(INS)—Mrs. Florence Troy Spurlock of Oxford, near Hamilton, apparently is satisfied her husband isn't coming home.

She filed suit for divorce yesterday in Butler county common pleas court, alleging her husband left her in 1918—32 years ago.

Painting on canvas was known in Rome as early as 66 A. D.

More Breaks With Balkans?

Bulgaria Action To Be Followed By Others

(Special To Central Press)

WASHINGTON, March 9. —The diplomatic break between this country and Bulgaria is regarded as only the first in a series of steps which the United States plans against the tightly-held Soviet Balkan satellites.

One by one, the United States is expected to ask the Balkan missions in Washington to go home while the American diplomats in those states will be pulled out a la Bulgaria.

The reason is simple enough. The Communists have clamped such tight restrictions on diplomatic activity in the satellite countries that it is impossible for the United States missions to function.

Since there is no other excuse for them to be in the Red-dominated nations, this valuable personnel might as well be withdrawn from the danger of trumped-up charges, mock trials and very real sentences imposed by Red courts.

The breach with Bulgaria, therefore, is looked upon as only the beginning.

Uneasy Balance

State department officials are not concerned about the esults of the British elections in themselves, but privately they are afraid of the effect they may have on future joint foreign policy.

The picture is further confused by the narrow margin on which the present French government clings to power. Both European nations in the Big Three are intangibles in world politics.

The small advantage held by the Laborites in Britain may well force a general election in the near future—a disturbing factor in any policies the Attlee government may initiate.

Particularly important as between the United States and Britain are American demands for a more closely integrated European economy, in which the British have been hold-outs.

Also, a new dollar shortage crisis is almost certain to develop in Britain before summer. The weak control the Laborites have is likely to make them timid about taking the strong and unpopular economic steps they feel are essential if Britain ever is to take its place again as a major power in world trade.

Tritium For Hydrogen Bomb

Some scientists feel that the simple hydrogen atom cannot be harnessed effectively to explode the H-bomb. If such should prove to be the case, it is quite possible that tritium, a heavier hydrogen atom, would be used.

Use of tritium, however, would complicate the process because it would have to be fabricated by bombarding lithium with neutrons.

The Atomic Energy Commission, in its recent semi-annual report, discussed laboratory experiments in which tritium, sometimes called Hydrogen Three, turned into Helium Three by emitting a Beta particle.

It is through conversion of hydrogen into helium that the tremendous energy release is obtained which would cause the most devastating blast and heat in mankind's history.

Horses, Horses

Look for a rekindling of Uncle Sam's interest in the military horse. Recent maneuvers in the savage Alaskan winter demonstrated that a fully mechanized army is inefficient under Arctic conidtions.

When more than 50 per cent of the "weasels"—the Army's No. 1 "snowmobile"—were knocked out by sub-zero temperatures, observers started looking backward—toward the horse.

The attitude reached as far up as the high brass. Defense officials now suggest that it may be time to return horses and mules to military status.

Army records prove that draft animals function more efficiently in servere weather than either men or machines.

An informal survey already is going on to determine what can be done about filling the ironic need for equines in this era of jet planes and atomic bombs.

The Russians, incidentally, have never relegated the horse to the background. Should there ever be a Soviet invasion of Alaska, United States military experts are certain that thousands of horses would figure in it.

OLD SOLDIERS

MANHATTAN, Kan. — (INS) — Some of the horses formerly ridden by the army's famous Olympic drill team are now being used by the rodeo and riding club at Kansas State College. The mounts were part of a group of 12 received from the Cavalry Replacement Training Center at Fort Riley.

King-Johnson Vows Exchanged

Miss Dorothy Lee King became the bride of Robert B. Johnson on Saturday, March 4, at 10:30 a. m. Rev. Jesse L McFarland, pastor of the Second Baptist church, officiated at the ceremony.

Miss King is the niece of Mrs. Modelia Clark of 259 West Grant street. Mr. Johnson is the son of Mrs. Lena Johnson of West Falls street.

The bride wore a gray suit with black accessories and a shoulder corsage of white roses. Mr. and Mrs. John Brown attended the couple.

The couple are making their home at 424 West Grant street. Mrs. Johnson is employed at the Shenango Pottery and the groom is employed at the Johnson Bronze.

GRANTS

WILMINGTON, Del.—(INS)—For the second year the Du Pont Company has authorized $100,000 for grants-in-aid to universities to "stock-pile" knowledge through the advancement of fundamental science. The grants are for the 1950-51 academic year and are for unrestricted use in the field of fundamental chemical research.

Congressmen Plan Another Handout For Themselves

WASHINGTON, March 9.—(INS)—Members of the House of Representatives are considering giving themselves another annual $500—for telephone and telegraphic expenses.

The proposal is contained in a bill which would increase the annual telephone and telegraph allowance provided House members from $500 to $1,000 a year.

The $500 hike would be in addition to the $15,000 paid Congressmen each year plus the $12,500 to $24,000 allowed annually for clerk hire plus an allowance for stationery and mileage.

The expense account measure is now before the House Administration Committe which has held one hearing on the bill. The committee has indicated that it will approve the measure and send it to the House floor for final action.

The first governmental employment bureaus were established in France in 1843.

South Hills Ch[illegible] Will Have Revival

Rev. Chester A. Freede, new pastor of South Hills Pentecostal church, will conduct a series of evangelistic services at the church, beginning Sunday morning, March 12, at 11 o'clock and continuing each evening, except Saturday, at 7:30 o'clock for two weeks. Special music will feature the meetings.

The Tuesday and Friday services will be devoted to divine healing.

City Council Of Parent-Teachers' Charter Meeting

Members of the City Council of Parent-Teachers' Asspciation met at the New Castle senior high school, and formally became the new council. Mrs. William Langan read the P.T.A. prayer, with Mrs. Horace T. Tressler giving the report of the initial meeting at the Rose Avenue school.

Mrs. Kenyon Nichell, south-west district president, was unable to be in attendance due to other commitments. The new council has the sincere approval of all P.T.A. presidents and school principals.

Orlando Lucidore, president of Pollock P.T.A., and chairman of the City Counbil By-Laws committee, read the new by-laws of the council. The name of the organization shall be the New Castle Council of P.T.A. of the Pennsylvania Branch of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Membership, delegates, voting, dues, and duties of the officers were stressed by Mr. Lucidore. Since many of the local P.T.A. units have not met this month, it was decided to wait until the next meeting to formally adopt the by-laws. In this way, it will be possible for the presidents to discuss the organization and by-laws with each unit, letting the members know exactly what will be done in the council.

The executive committee of the city council will meet the first Monday of each month, with the regular meeting set for the first Wednesday of each school month. The next meeting will be held on April 5, with the time and place being announced.

The group showed 100 percent participation in the meeting, with each person expressing his or her ideas of what should be done by the council. Representing the principals were Fred McClure, Peter Grittie and John Cornelius.

New Approach For Control Of A-Bomb Likely

WASHINGTON, March 9—(INS)—A new approach to Moscow for an effective agreement on control of atomic weapons may come out of the forthcoming meeting of the North Atlantic Council.

Secretary of State Acheson told a news conference that he expects to call a council session in late April or early May.

Although Acheson would not commit himself on the place of the meeting, it was generally assumed that it will be held in London.

Washington diplomats are convinced that council members will bow to worldwide demands for another try at getting the Russians to agree to effective atomic controls.

The Ataltnic Pact powers, consisting of Canada, the U.S. and Western European nations, are the ones most likely to feel the effects of atomic or hydrogen bombing. They would also bear the brunt of any new warfare.

Aware Of Clamor

Acheson is known to be aware of the clamor not only among the Atantic treaty powers but among Americans for some sort of settlement of the cold war. He is also known to be skeptical of any results which might come from a meeting with the Russians just now.

In his deaings with Soviet leaders he is convinced of these two things:

1. Russia will not enter into any effective agreement on the control of atomic energy and and general armaments until and unless it will be to her advantage to do so.

2. Any such agreement will be honored by the present Communist regime only so long as it serves its purpose.

Nevertheless, Acheson has made clear to those closely associated with him that he is constantly seeking means of bringing an end to the cold war, which he actually regards as a hot war with only the shooting missing.

Congressman's Son Marries Daughter Of Another Congressman

PITTSBURGH, March 9.—(INS)—Two Pennsylvania congressional districts were united in matrimony today.

Joan Buchanan, 19, daughter of Congressman Frank Buchanan of McKeesport, was married to William B. Cavalcante, 21, son of Congressman Anthony Cavalcante, in an elopement to Cumberland, Md., last October.

The marriage was announced last night.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, March 9.—We went out to bat the breeze with lovely June Allyson but wound up interviewing a "prop box".

The most famous box in history, probably, is the hunk of lumber which Pandora popped open and unleashed upon civilization countless bugs, things and etcetera.

But the "prop boxes" of the movies make Pandora's crate look emptier than Mother Hubbard's cupboard.

Like we say, we intended to belt around a few bon mots with Miss Allyson on the set of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Right Cross', in which her husband, Dick Powell, portrays a sports writer.

Handy Brooms

June said that "The Three Brooms" and their prop box would be much more interesting. The "Three Brooms" is the collective nickname of a trio of characters named Carl Nugent, Lolly Brent and Bob Henderson.

They comprise the property department crew assigned to the film. Anytime Director John Sturges or any of the actors need anything they holler for one of the brooms.

The broom known as Carl explained:

"When you start out in the prop racket you have the usual line of stuff in the prop box. But we get requests for some out-of-this-world items even a feller in his right senses couldn't think of. So you lay in a supply of goofy gadgets. Once we get an item in the box we keep it on hand all the time."

Have Everything

The brooms called Brent and Henderson interrupted the interview with the prop box and scurried around in the box. Brent came up with some neatsfoot oil. Henderson hauled out a jug of wine needed for a scene.

Carl continued:

"We got articles in this little box such as whiskey, pencils, glue, adhesive tape, hairpins, flea powder, bullets, crackerjacks, powder puffs, chocolate bars, armbands, whistles, water, smelling salts, combs, thumbtacks, bread, soup, tennis shoes—"

Miss June Allyson shrilled:

"I have a run in my stocking!"

The broom known as Carl shoved us aside, looked in the prop box, galloped to the side of Miss Allyson. With a gallant bow, he proffered her a new pair of sheer hose—size nine.

"Oh, Carl,' said Miss Allyson. 'Youre a darling. And so clever."

The broom named Carl grinned. He had made a clean sweep.

Two-Car Accident; One Man Is Hurt

One person was injured in a two-car accident, allegedly caused by a "one headlight" auto at 1:30 a. m. today on Route 422, seven miles east of the city line, according to state police. Both cars were damaged, a power company pole and wires felled. Efforts of the operators of the two damaged autos to overtake the erring operator failed when his auto was lost trace of in New Castle.

The injured operator is John A. Elliott, age 25, of Butler R. D. 1. His lip was badly lacerated when his car hit the power pole.

According to the state police, Elliott was driving east. A car was operating from an opposite direction, and passed a semi-trailer vehicle.

The east-bound car struck Elliott's machine. He lost control of the car which struck and "cut off" the pole, felling electric wires.

His car was followed by an auto driven by Ira F. Morrow, Portersville R. D. 2, and when the wires fell on top of his car a multitude of sparks similar to a pyrotechnical display burst forth.

Elliott and Morrow then pursued the car which had only one headlight to New Castle, where it was lost.

The Pennsylvania Power company sent an emergency crew to the district and the repairs to the wires were made.

The size of the original Mona Liza painting is 2 feet 6 inches high by 1 foot 9 inches across.

County Firemen Plan School

Instruction To Be Given To Volunteers

Plans were outlined to form a school of instruction for volunteers of the county, to assist them in fighting various types of fire, at a meeting of the Lawrence County Firemen's Association, held in the Neshannock Township Fire Hall, Wednesday evening. Arrangements are in charge of a committee headed by Mike Schmidt.

Harold Anderson, of the New Wilmington department, distributed the new coordination maps which have been developed following a study of fire conditions in the county, these being given to the delegates from each department who were in attendance last evening.

Chiefs To Meet

A meeting of all fire chiefs was arranged for next Wednesday evening at the county court house, when the coordination plan will be further discussed, and a study of the maps will be made. Formation of an association for county fire chiefs will also be discussed at this meeting.

Last evening's meeting was preceded by an oyster and vegetable soup supper. The committee on arrangements consisting of Mrs. William Fox, Mrs. James Messner, Sam Messner, John Campbell, Ray Renaldi, Bob Mitchell, and members of the ladies auxiliary.

A fine program of entertainment was also presented during the evening, by a group from the New Castle Music club, headed by Delbert Fletcher. This feature was arranged by Al Mellor and George Fisher.

Those who took part in the program in addition to Mr. Fletcher, were: Miss Dorothy Purdue, Lena Mae McConnell, Connie Branstetter, Carrie Walls, Walt Luikart, Darl Wylie, and Harry Spence, with Miss Ailene Jordan as accompanist.

While the business meeting was in session, the ladies were entertained with television. Two films were also shown through the courtesy of the Fire Underwriters Association on preparedness in the event of fire.

The next meeting will take place on April 12, in the Vine street fire station, with New Castle Department as hosts.

Senior's Mascot Strayed Or Stolen

"Lucky Fifty", china dog mascot of the New Castle senior high graduating class, is missing.

The class was presented with the mascot three years ago when the group was entering high school as sophomores. It has been an important symbol for the more than 500 seniors. Many of the outstanding feats of the class have been attributed to the luck of the mascot. It has become the pride of the class.

Recently Donald Copson, class supervisor, received a late-at-night telephone call saying that the dog was last seen in the custody of the city dog catcher heading in the direction of the dog pound. The prankster challenged Mr. Copson to find the dog in its usual home, the cupboard in the supervisor's session, room.

Sure enough, the dog was missing and a window into the room had been forced open.

An appeal has been made to the undergraduate body for the return of the dog. It is definitely felt among the senior class personnel that the dog was not maliciously stolen, but that a mischievous lower classman copped the seniors' prize possession. Senior class sleuths have several good leads as to the whereabouts of the dog and hope to have it back in its usual home soon.

Plastic surgery was known as early as the 16th century. The Hindus performed nose repairs by grafting pieces of skin from their foreheads. The Roman Emperor Justian II enlisted the help of skin grafters to rebuild a nose that he had lost on the battlefield.

Seventh Ward

Ward Civic Club Hears Reports

Commissioners To Provide Ball Field

At their headquarters on North Liberty street, members of Seventh Ward Civic club gathered with Alfred Hyde, president, in chrage.

The county commissioners were present in the ward on Monday and met with Manning Weller and E. N. Ubry, who represented the Civic club.

A plot of ground in the locality of South Ashland avenue was under consideration regarding the providing of a ball field or recreation ground for the seventh ward. It is expected that the area will be put into shape during the spring.

It was reported that the utility pole at the corner of South Liberty street and Montgomery avenue, which was a hazard, has been removed, but the old curb still remains. It has been promised that the curb will be moved back as soon as weather permits, to make a safer turn at that point.

A report was made by Principal Fred McLure regarding the cape project, and that the sewing of capes for Mahoning band has been completed.

St. Lucy Sodality Meets At Church

Members of the Immaculate Conception sodality assembled on March 5 in the auditorium of St. Lucy's church.

The opening prayer was conducted by prefect Catherine DeSimone. Hymn "Mother Beloved" was sung by the group.

Connie Mazocca represented the Eucharistic committee and read an article on the subject "What is your vacation". "Apostolic," represented by Martha Iovanelia, talked on the "Feast of the Visitation".

Fr. Stanislaus J. Zachowicz thanked the sodalists for attending the 40 hours devotion. He also urged the girls to attend instructions every Wednesday evening.

Rita Felice passed tickets to the girls to see a movie entitled "The Story of the Vatican" being shown at the SS. Philip and James church. The tickets were donated.

Justine DeCaprio and her committee served tasty refreshments. Closing prayer was led by Jetta Warren and closing hymn, "Christ the King" was sung by the group.

Called To Georgia, Brother Very Ill

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Jones of Sunnysdie, Mt. Jackson road, have left for Cochran, Ga., where they were called on account of the serious illness of the former's brtoher, Albert Jonse.

Brownie Troop 41 To Attend Service

At Mt. Jackson high school, following school sessions on Tuesday afternoon, the Brownies troop No. 41 assembled with Mrs. Margaret Shogren and Miss Verna Mae Mack, leaders, in charge.

Miss Mack conducted the opening exercises. There was 20 minutes of reviewing old and new songs, directed by Mrs. Shogren.

Remainder of the afternoon was spent by the Brownies coloring pictures and playing games.

On Sunday morning at 11 o'clock Brownie troop 41 will attend the service at Mission Covenant church at Bessemer.

Next regular meeting of the group will be March 14 at the school.

Ladies Aid Society Meets At Church

Members of the Ladies Aid society of Madison Avenue Christian church met in the church on Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. I. D. Wagner presiding.

At the business session, plans were discussed and made for the summer months.

Following a social period a tasty lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Harvey Gillespie, Mrs. John W. Jones, Mrs. E. A. Jones, assisted by Mrs. C. G. Anderson.

Next meeting of the group will be Wednesday afternoon, April 12, at the church, hostesses Mrs. J. T. Clark, Mrs. J. B. Comstock and Mrs. Carl Houk.

Pastor To Occupy His Pulpit Sunday

Rev. J. L. Petrie, pastor of Mahoning Methodist church, desires to announce that he expects to be able to occupy his pulpit and preach at the services on Sunday next, after a period of illness of several weeks.

SEVENTH WARD NOTES

Members of the S. C. W. class of Mahoningtown Presbyterian church will be entertained this evening in the home of Mrs. R. L. Drumheller, 311 West Madison avenue, with Mrs. Joseph H. McBride as associate hostess.

Mrs. Godfrey Richards of Brentwood, Ptitsburgh, spent Wednesday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Jones, North Cedar street.

Mrs. William Metz of 1003 North Cedar street, who has been confined to her home for about a week, is much improved.

Mrs. Jack Gettings of 925 North Cedar street, who has been receiving treatment at New Castle hospital for pneumonia, is improving.

Although the ostrich has proportionately weak wings, it posesses exceedingly powerful legs and uses these as a means of defense. It can kick forward or sideways with its legs, and is said to have killed men and even horses this way.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

"He's So Quiet And Well-Behaved"

Both parents and teachers tend to count themselves fortunate if their children are quiet and well-behaved. "And why not?" you may ask. "We could do with a little more good manners, today."

Right! There's nothing particularly desirable about rudeness and noise, constant uproar or horseplay.

Sometimes, though, the very quiet, well-behaved child is that way not because he's been brought up well, but because he's extremely shy or fearful. If he's quiet, he doesn't come to the attention of grownups or other kids. He is uncomfortable with others and withdraws so as not to have to "get along" with them in a nomal give-and-take way.

It's natural, of course, for grownups to be aware of the noisy rembunctious child. We may do a lot of planning on how to help him change his behavior. The quiet, retiring youngster is apt to be let alone. Yet, actually, he needs encouragement, more help and guidance than his active brother or sister. Unless he learns through experience to enjoy playing and working with others and to express his ideas and to take his part in the group, he's likely to grow up into a withdrawn asocial adult for whom life can be pretty unhappy.

So the next time you say or think, "He's so quiet and well-behaved," it may be worth while to ask yourself whether the roots of that behavior are healthy ones.

Six Not True Bill Returned

Grand Jury Reports; News Of Court House

Six not true bills were returned by the Lawrence county March grand jury as it finished up its work. The six defendants named in the bills of indictment will therefore not have to stand trial.

The not true bills found include Robert S. Irwin, aggravated assault and battery. Jack Slater, assault and battery. Samuel Doster, neglect to support a minor child. Allen Long, larceny by bailee, Rocco Arena, driving while intoxicated, and Charles Conti, assault and battery.

True bills were found in the following cases. George McCracken, embezzlement by agent, four counts. Floyd Pile, Robert Bretz and Harry C. Burns, driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

The grand jury inspected the county buildings and said, "We are well satisfied and with knowledge of contemplated improvements we find no other recommendations necessary at this time."

WANT ISOLATION BUILDING

The need for an isolation building for tuberculosis patients in Lawrence county was stresed by a group consisting of a doctor and laymen before the county commissioners Wednesday.

In the group were Dr. David Perry, Alec Samuels, Superintendent of Schools Frank L. Burton, Jack Huston, Attorney Roy Mercer and Mrs. Jane Cochran.

The county commissioners were told there are 12 active cases of tuberculosis in the county at the present time that should be cared for but there is no room in state sanitariums.

They asked that the county provide an isloation building where the patients could be kept until they can be located in a sanitarium. Commissioner Joseph F. Travers suggested that the county abandon its attempts to conduct a farm near the county home and turn the present farmhouse into an isolation building. The matter is being studied.

APPROVE EXPENSE FUND

The county commissioners on Wednesday approved a $1,000 expense fund for District Attorney Sherman K. Levine, for which no specific accounting is to be made. This is for private investigations which the district attorney feels should be kept confidential.

JURY FEE TO CHILDREN'S HOME

Edward Haims, a downtown business man was a member of the grand jury this week. The jury worked two days and each member was paid $5 per day.

Mr. Haims asked the county controller if he could turn his pay check over to the Margaret Henry Home for Children and Controller Andrew M. Dodds cashed it and forwarded the money to the home.

BONDS APPOVED

Bonds to indemnify four property owners against damage by the laying of a 26-inch gas line through the county were approved Wednesday by Judge W. Walter Braham.

The bonds were given by the Tennessee Gas Transmission company to indemnify the following property: Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Whiting, Pulaski township; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Carnabucci, Mahoning township; Mr. and Mrs. John S. Matthews, Mahoning township, and Mr. and Mrs. T. Homer Matthews, Mahoning township.

The transmission company has a mortgage on file in the office of Register and Recorder Edward E. McConahy in the amount of $375,000,000, covering properties in a number of states.

When completed, the transmission line will carry natural gas from Texas up through Lawrence county near Bessemer, through Lawrence county to New Wilmington, then into Mercer, Crawford and Erie county, and on to Buffalo, N. Y. Eventually it will go on to Boston.

When the line is completed and gas is flowing, it should solve any gas shortages in Lawrence county.

Genevans To Sing At Mount Jackson

The Genevans, 35-voice mixed chorus of Geneva college, will present the first concert of their 1950 season Friday evening, March 10, in the Mt. Jackson U. P. church.

Under the direction of Prof. Alfred H. Johnson, head of the college music department, the Genevans will sing both sacred and secular works, featuring the Mendelssohn cantata, "Hear My Prayer", and a medley of music from the Broadway hit, "Brigadoon'. Other selections will include works of Tschaikowsky, Gretchaninoff and Rachmaninoff.

The recital, open to the public, will begin at 8:15 o'clock.

Girl Scout Troop Gets Recognition

Miss Jean Calhoun, leader of Senior Girl Scout Troop No. 2 of the New Castle Area, has just received a letter from Miss Gwen Elsemore, Senior Scout adviser of the National Staff in New York City, commending her and her troop on the many activities they have carried on during the past year and particularly for their interest in a displaced family who recently moved into their community. These girls gave up their own Christmas party in order that they might share with others less fortunate.

A part of Miss Elsemore's letter follows:

"They are certainly to be commended for their generous efforts in behalf of the Somogyi family who has recently moved in the vicinity of New Castle. It is a shining example of not only the Girl Scout philosophy at its best, but also of international friendship in its best form. We shall never know, I am sure, the great joy that Senior Troop No. 2 brought to this family, most recently displaced.

"I am sure they have experienced great satisfaction themselves through their efforts and have won the life-long friendship of a worthy family. I hope you will extend my sincere congratulations to the troop, especially for their noble efforts in behalf of the displaced persons who are entering our country, and remind them that they are demonstrating the way a democracy should really function.

"No less praise and commendation should be yours as leaders of the troops, for in all the Senior Girl Scout program there must be a person who inspires girls to such worthwhile activities. My sincere congratulations!"

LAW BREAKER

CHICAGO.— (INS)—John Fitza, 31, pleaded in court that he is really a benevolent landlord but he failed to impress the judge. Fitza told Judge Erwin J. Hasten three Ukrainian refugee families that include eight persons had no other place to go. However, the judge fined him $150 for overcrowding the apartment and said: "Even though you were being charitable you were breaking the law."

New Dean At Westminster

DR. WM. VANDER LUGT

Dr. William Vander Lugt, head of the department of psychology at Central college, Pella, Ia., has been named academic dean at Westminster college, according to an announcement by Dr. Will W. Orr, president of the local college.

Dr. Vander Lugt will take over his new duties here in June. He will fill a vacancy that has existed in the dean's office for three years. Dr. John Orr, acting dean, will go back to his regular position as head of the college Bible department.

Dr. Vander Lugt has been on the faculty of Central college for 14 years. Prior to that time he taught at Western Academy, University of Michigan, and Indiana University.

He received his AB degree from Calvin college and his MA and Ph D degrees from the University of Michigan.

Customers' Corner

We want to be good citizens in the towns in which we do business.

We try to earn that rating by doing the following things:

1. Giving our customers good food and good service at low prices.
2. Dealing honestly and fairly with our customers, our suppliers, and our competitors.
3. Furnishing good jobs and good opportunities for advancement to the local citizens who work for us.
4. Cooperating in worthy civic activities.

Are we good citizens in your town? If not, we would consider it a favor if you would let us know.

First Report In YW Drive

Report 253 Members At Noon Meeting

Friendship and enthusiasm permeated the first report meeting of the annual Membership Ingathering of the Young Women's Christian Association today at noon when seventy five workers reported just before the luncheon a total of 236 renewals and 17 new members.

New Plan Used

Mrs. Thomas C. Nelson, chairman, had developed a plan somewhat different from preceding years in that workers on their way up to the Green Room were asked to stop in the balcony to finish any clerical work they had to do before turning their reports into their captains. This plan decreased the confusion which heretofore had existed in the Green Room and greatly facilitated the calling in of reports.

As has been customary in previous years, YWCA members in various churches take turns at serving the luncheon.

Today women from the Central Presbyterian church served including Mrs. Clarence Aiken, Miss Blanche Bright, Mrs. Paul Butz, Miss Grace Campbell, Mrs. Alfred Sadler and Mrs. John Walters.

The next report meeting will be next Thursday at 11:30 with YWCA members in the First Presbyterian church in charge of the luncheon.

Shenango-Taylor Pupils Have Penny March; Also See Film

"TB Target," a film on tuberculosis, was shown to the pupils of Shenango-Taylor school Wednesday by Mrs. Ruth Pitzer, principal, through the cooperation of the Lawrence County Tuberculosis society.

After the film a discussion on TB was conducted by Mrs. Isabel Craig, district school nurse.

A Penny Bangle march was held by the pupils of the school under the supervision of Msr. Craig and Mrs. Virginia Rung. Saundra Johnson represented the tuberculosis emblem and held the box while the rest of hte pupils put their pennies in. A total of $7.78 was collected from the march.

TWINS PAY OFF

BOSTON—Under a new Massachusetts law, the state foots the bill for hospital care of babies weighing 4½ pounds or less if the parents need help. First to benefit under this statute was a woman who gave birth prematurely to twins weighing a total of only 7 pounds, 13 ounces.

Worm Wrangler Develops Big Bait Business

LA JUNTA, Colo., (INS)—R. H. McNeal of La Junta, Colo., has some one million worms in the soil of his backyard and is tickled pink about the whole thing.

In fact, the place is a worm's paradise, where they are fed grass clippings, brown sugar and other worm delicacies. Add to this loving hands to cover up his bed when the cold wintry breezes blow, and you have a set-up no sensible worm would want to angle out of.

McNeal, a 58-year-old warehouse foreman for the Santa Fe Railroad, began his career as a worm wrangler three years ago.

Mac read an ad in a magazine which gave worms as the answer of what to do with a sickly lawn and other flora.

So, he promptly ordered 6,000 red crawlers, representing years of experimental breeding among 2,000 kinds of earthworms.

Ravenous Eater

The red crawler species was developed by Dr. George S. Oliver, a California botanist.

Botanists have known for some time that worms pulverize the soil with their burrowings and aerate the ground so that it will retain moisture. The earthworm takes in soil along with organic decaying material and ejects castings thereby returning to the earth such elements necessary to plant growth as nitrogen, phosphates and potash.

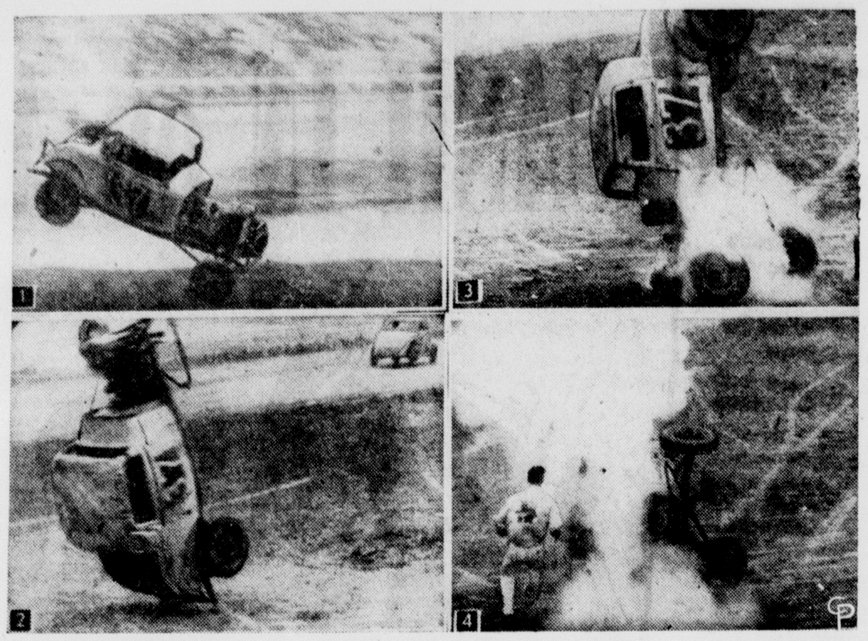
Dr. Oliver succeeded in developing a 4-inch worm which wouldn't crawl more than a radius of 2 feet in an entire season. The worm is also a ravenous eater. In 24 hours he eats his weight in organic material and so by his increased appetite takes in more soil and ejects more castings to enrich the soil.

Oliver's worm also had a reproduction rate of some 350 per year.

BIG PENSIONS

DENVER—Colorado's old age pension payments—the highest in the nation at $80 a month—may climb still higher by 1950.

DISASTER IN A STOCK CAR RACE IN CALIFORNIA



BLAZING DESTRUCTION comes at high speed in this dramatic series of News of the Day Newsreel photos taken at a stock car race in Gardena, Cal. Car heads off the track (1) and a second later momentarily stands on end (2), then tips over (3) and lands (4) with a crash as a mechanic runs toward the wreck. The driver got out alive. (International)

Methodists To Meet At King's Chapel

This evening's service of the district Methodist revival series will be conducted in the King's Chapel Methodist church, with the Mervyn Boyle family conducting the service. They will be presenting a program of music.

Wednesday evening the service was conducted at the West Pittsburg Methodist church with the pastor, Rev. Paul Aley presiding. Rev. Merle Weaver led the song service with Rev. G. E. Shaffer leading in prayer. Special music was presented by the combined choirs. The sermon was preached by Rev. Everett F. Spring. A fine response to the altar call was given.

Warren B. Wysner Receives Degrees

Warren B. Wysner was graduated in the 103rd convocation of Northern Illinois College of Optometry at Chicago, Ill., in February, according to a message received by local relatives. Dr. Wysner is a son of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Wysner, 819 Emerson street, Fairmont, W. Va. The young man and his parents are former residents of this city.

The degrees of Doctor of Optometry and Bachelor of Science in Visual Optics were conferred upon him at that time.

Dr. and Mrs. Wysner will remain in Chicago until early spring prior to returning to West Virginia.

JAMES BOYS ARRESTED

WASHINGTON — The James boys are back in prison. The brothers, Stances, 29, and Oliver, 24, were sentenced to serve from three to nine years for the theft of a safe from a Washington poolroom. Inside the safe was $60,000.

Wampum Area May Plan For Consolidation

Members of the Wampum school board have asked representatives of various districts to participate in a meeting Friday evening, March 10, at 8 o'clock in Wampum high school. The meeting is for the purpose of considering the possibility of a joint high school or consolidation.

Districts which will join in the sesson follow: Big Beaver township, Chewton Independent, Koppel borough, Wayne township and Taylor township. It is expected that a large representative group from each district will be in attendance.

J. C. Syling, Lawrence county school superintendent, will be present to answer any questions that may arise.

Purchasers Meet On Wednesday Eve

Affairs of the newly organized Purchasing Agents association of western Pennsylvaina were furthered at a meeting of the association held Wednesday eveinng at the Johnson Bronze Co., with E. Frank Strizzi, the new president, in charge of the meeting.

There was a good attendance of members and the new constitution and by-laws were adopted.

It was voted to hold over election of directors until the April meeting, on April 12, when a more representative membership is expected to be affiliated at that time.

There were several visitors present from Pittsburgh at last evening's meeting, who spoke on the value of the organization.

A committee was named to make arrangements for the meeting April 12, which is expected to be in the form of a dinner meeting.

A news service survey shows there are more than 20 million active Communists in the principal countries of the world.

Former Local Man Accepts Call From Church In Detroit

Rev. Stanley R. Boughton, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Tonawanda, N. Y., former resident of this city, has accepted a call to be pastor of the fourth largest Presbyterian church in the city of Detroit, Mich.

Rev. Boughton grew up in the Primitive Methodist church, South Mill street. His mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Boughton, reside at 923 Winslow avenue. Rev. Boughton was graduated from the New Castle high school.

Uniting with the First Presbyterian church of this city under the ministry of Dr. Walter E. McClure in 1933, Rev. Boughton has ministered in the local church. The church in Detroit to which he goes in May is the same one where Dr. Walter McClure served after he left New Castle.

Rev. Boughton was licensed to preach by Shenango Presbytery and recommended by the session of First Presbyterian church. He served at Princeton and Mt. Hermon churches while taking ministerial studies. His wife, Mae E. Sands Boughton, was graduated from New Castle high and Westminster college and taught at Ben Franklin junior high for seven years.

Ellwood Woman Writes Hit Song

Despite the fact she must keep house and care for five children, Mrs. Patricia R. Gordon of Beaver avenue, Ellwood City, is also a song writer.

Her musical career began when she was a member of the Beaver Falls-Ellwood City chorus, and later attended Geneva college where she studied music for three years.

Writing music for a hobby, her friends persuaded her that it might become a profitable enterprise. She has provided music for several clubs and organizations. Her recent hit, "Is It Fair?" was recently featured by a well-known orchestra, and will soon be known throughout the country.

Mrs. Gordon is the wife of Arthur Gordon, and daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Magee of the Ellwood Country club road.

Paul L. Simpson In U.S. Air Force

Paul L. Simpson, 210 Edison avenue, enlisted in the United States Air Force and has departed for Lackland Air Force base, San Antonio, Texas, from Pittsburgh.

Upon completion of basic training he will be eligible for further training in one of the many air force specialized or technical training schools.

PRR Women's Aid To Meet Tuesday

Regular monthly meeting of the Womens' Aid of the Pennsylvania railroad will be held at their club room on West Washington street at 1 p. m. Tuesday, March 14. Mrs. Streett will be in charge of the meeting.

Two Workmen Killed As Roof Caves In

CHESTER, Pa., March 9.—(INS) Two workmen were killed and two others were seriously injured today when a roof of a Chester plant caved in and partially buried them under 30 tons of firebrick.

The mishap occurred at the Harbinson-Walker Refractory plant which is being razed preparatory to improvements planned by the Scott Paper Co., new owners of the property.

One of the dead was identified as Lewis F. Grant, of Philadelphia. The other fatality was not identified immediately.

In serious condition at Chester hospital are William Young, of Philadelphia, chest injuries, and James Brown, no address, broken leg.

All of the victims were grouped about a fire in a kiln attempting to warm themselves when the cave-in occurred.

Other workmen excavated the victims from the tons of firebrick which partially buried them.

Young Mother Is Killed In Crash

HARRISBURG, March 9.—(INS)—A 31-year-old mother was killed late yesterday in a truck-car collision on a street in Harrisburg's residential section.

The victim, Mrs. Vera K. Underkoffler, of Elizabethville, suffered a fractured skull when she was thrown from the car driven by her husband, Carson.

The Underkofflers' 10-year-old son, Donald, was a passenger in the auto when it crashed head-on into a light truck operated by William Gray, of Harrisburg.

The Underkofflers were returning home from a visit to the Central Pennsylvania Builders show when the accident occurred.

Hillsville-Bessemer Auxiliary 4965 VFW . First Anniversary

At the Hillsville high school, the Hillsville-Bessemer Ladies Auxiliary 4965 of V.F.W., had their first anniversary meeting Tuesday evening.

Meeting was opened by president Mary Gallo, who presented the newly purchased colors, to the organization.

There was nomination of officers, and a program was presented, honoring the auxiliary's first anniversary.

Special guests were introduced by President Gallo: past department president Evelyn Woods; Lillian Davis, Deshon hospital chairman; and president Beatrice McNicholas of Ladies Auxiliary No. 522.

Mrs. Woods gave a talk on "Patriotism." Mrs. Davis presented a check to youngest members of our auxiliary toward the purchase of our colors. Greetings from Post 522 were brought by president McNicholas, and she introduced ten members of her auxiliary who accompaied her.

After close of the meeting, President Gallo was agreeably surprised, this being her birthday month, with a surprise party.

At a beautifully decorated table, with lighted tapers, and graced with a lovely birthday cake, a gift from Ladies of Post 522, a delicious lunch was served, with covers laid for 42. The honored guest was the recipient of many splendid gifts. The invocation was given by chaplain Italy Grimes.

Arrangements for the occasion were made by Josephine Lupo and her committee. Next meeting of the auxiliary at Hillsville high school, March 21, when there will be election of officers.

Missionary Dinner Event At R.P. Church

There was a good attendance at the spring thankoffering of the Women's Missionary society on Wednesday evening, in the dining room of the Reformed Presbyterian church, with Mrs. A. C. Gardner, thankoffering superintendent presiding.

The tables were nicely decorated with spring flowers, and a splendid dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock, with places for 32. Miss Rose Munnell, Mrs. Sarah Martin, Miss Norma Shaffer, Mrs. Gula Hess, and Mrs. Charles Hollis were guests. Kenneth Kennedy gave the invocation.

Miss Shaffer sang a solo, "He Smiles On Me", self accompanied by her accordion.

Miss Rose Munnell, for three years, Reformed Presbyterian missionary on the Island of Cyprus, in the Mediterranian Sea, gave an interesting address on her work there. She showed beautiful handiwork made by the native girls of her school there.

At the close, Mrs. Gardner led the group in reciting the Lord's Prayer.

Preceding the dinner, there was an election of officers as follows: president, Mrs. Edward McConahy; vice-president, Mrs. Stella Booher; secretary, Mrs. J. D. Patterson; treasurer, Mrs. A. C. Gardner.

Gospel Team At Portersville Rally

The regular meeting of the Portersville Youth for Christ will be held on Saturday, March 11, at 8:00 p. m. in the Portersville United Presbyterian church.

The Youngstown Steel Workers Gospel Team will be present to bring special musical selections and the message of the evening.

Toneo Injured When Car Upsets

Anthony Toneo, aged 26, of 809 Crescent avenue, Ellwood City, was treated at the New Castle hospital on Wednesday following injuries received when his car turned over on the Ellwood City road. He was treated for injuries to his right leg.

District Y-Teens Hear Hair Stylist At Joint Meeting

Y-Teens from the New Castle area held a joint meeting at the Y.W.C.A. on Wednesday evening. Those present were the senior Y-Teens, with Miss Janet Brenneman as leader; Franklin group, headed by Miss Victoria Gizzi; Washington Y-Teens, with Miss Jessia Jenkins as leader; Union, under the supervision of Carrie Mae Rentz; and Elm street Y-Teens, headed by Miss Shirley Webber.

Mrs. Clark McClelland, program director of the entire Y-Teen group, welcomed those present from the Ellwood City Y-Teens, accompanied by Mrs. Lawrence Sumners, a committee member of the organization.

Mrs. McClelland then introduced Mrs. Esther Sontag of Youngstown, who discussed "Personality Fashions". "How attractive are you? said Mrs. Sontag. "Your personality is what you are plus what you do yourself. Teen-agers are always ready to tell grown-ups what to do, but how do they dress and act themselves?"

Dress With Taste

"Hattie Carnegie says that perfection is seldom attained, yet it is the hope of women to dress with fashion, taste, and for activities. First check your proportions and posture, then select your clothes for coordination of person, including hair style, make-up and costume. Dress your age, and don't attempt to look either younger or older."

"To be correctly costumed, you should try to attain the "look of the season", checking hair, make-up and costume. If you dress with taste, you are lovely although you may not be a beautiful woman. Dress with distinction, and master the personal techniques of costuming that make you stand out above others. But don't buy fads."

Mrs. Sontag cited various problems that may confront young girls, such as purchasing articles for a wardrobe and the amount of money necessary to be correctly groomed. She stressed the fact that a person can buy fashion, but style cannot be bought. Mrs. Sontag then demonstrated correct make-up application, and ended her discussion with a display of several delightful and charming hair-styles that may be worn for many occasions.

MILLBURN

Millburn grange hall was the scene of a very pleasant miscellaneous shower given for Mr. and Mrs. William Critchlow, nee Mildred Cummings, on Wednesday evening of last week. Games and cards entertained and a dainty lunch, in which L. M. Cummings' birthday was given special notice in the form of a birthday cake, was served. The young couple received many beautiful and useful gifts together with the best wishes of the group.

Mrs. C. A. Fink and David Lukacs made high scores at the card party given by the grange Thursday evening.

The Ladies Friendship club will hold the March meeting at the grange hall on Thursday, March 16, with the usual tureen dinner at noon. The trip to Pennsylvania (George) Junior Republic planned for this club meeting has been postponed on account of other meetings.

Mr. and Mrs. Dickson Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. John Woods and Mr. and Mrs. James Patterson were Saturday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Humphrey.

Several in the community have been suffering from the prevalent epidemic of "flu", among being Mrs. Dickson Stewart and her children, Christine and Kenneth Fink.

Mr. and Mrs. William Silesky and son Billy and Miss Sara Lukacs of Pittsburgh spent Friday with Mrs. Stephen Lukacs. Other recent guests of Mrs. Lukacs were her mother, Mrs. Hannah Chess, and Mrs. Emery Chess and Mrs. William Spencer, all of Greenville.

Mr. and Mrs. John Price and Mrs. Sara Price of Pittsburgh visited their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Armstrong, last week.

Dr. and Mrs. Harry Ficks of Brownsville and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Masters and family of Mercer were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Masters.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Jaxtheimer and family of Poland, O., spent Saturday with Mrs. Jaxtheimer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Boies.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Patterson and son Russell and Mrs. John Woods and daughters Peggy and Dorothy attended the White Chapel church supper on Friday evening of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Patterson visited Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Moore and Miss Mary Moore of New Castle and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Frew of Ellwood City on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Zahniser of Jackson Center called in the Robert Patterson home on Sunday.

Frank Best, who is temporarily stationed at Springville, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Flack of Oil City were first of the week guests of Mrs. Best and Blaine.

Mrs. S. O. Drake, Mrs. Sam Winger, Mrs. E. L. Ramsey and Mrs. D. E. were Monday shoppers in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Hume, Jr., and baby of Cincinnati, O., spent the week end with Mr. Hume's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Latshaw and Ilene visited Mr. Latshaw's parents in Parkers Landing Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Robinson visited their daughter, Mrs. Walter Fyffe and family in New Wilmington, Sunday.

FLIP STORY

NEW YORK—(INS)—"Flip" was the most popular of all early colonial rum drinks. There were many recipes, but the most common one called for rum and beer, sweetened with sugar or dried pumpkin, mixed in a pewter mug. It was served in huge glass tumblers after being stirred to a froth with a red hot "loggerhead", a poker-like rod which stood beside the fireplace in most colonial homes.

Serrill Is Named General Manager Of Penna. N.P.A.

THEODORE A. SERRILL

HARRISBURG, March 9.—Theodore A. Serrill, who during the last six years has been associated manager of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' Association, has been named general manager of that association of 302 daily, weekly and semi-weekly newspapers.

This announcement was made by Robert S. Bates, president of PNPA, who stated the action of the executive committee to the association today.

Serrill succeeds William N. Hardy manager of the association for 21 years, who died last week at Harrisburg. He is a native of Montgomery county, Pa., and came with PNPA in January, 1944, following his direction of public relations for the U. S. Treasury war loan drives in the Third Federal Reserve District and in the state of Pennsylvania.

His promotion to the managership of the PNPA leaves vacant the position he held as director of the Industrial Relations Division of the association.

Officers of the PNPA, in addition to President Bates, publisher of the Meadville Tribune Newspapers, are Harold Cooper Roberts, publisher of the Conshohocken Recorder, vice president, and William A. Helman, publisher, Irwin Republican Standard, secretary-treasurer.

SCOTT TWP.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pullium and sons of Struthers were guests on Sunday of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Double.

Mrs. Harry Marshall entertained on a recent evening a birthday supper for her sister, Blanche Pratt.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Turk with Roger Wayne from near Harrisburg were home over the week end and entertained the latter's mother, Mrs. Alvin McFarland, with a delicious meal, it being her birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Samuel Kerr is a patient in Ellwood City hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. McCaslin of Slippery Rock were recent callers here.

A number of little girls gathered last Saturday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed McKibben in honor of their daughter Betty, who celebrated her tenth birthday. Games were much enjoyed and a very tempting lunch was served. Many nice gifts were presented to the honored one. Linda Emery of East Liverpool was a special guest.

Toward end of World War II 32,000 military and civilian war department workers were employed daily at the Pentagon in Washington.

NEW LIFE

CHESTER, Pa.—(INS)—A Chester process firm is the new home of a foreign chemist who spent four bleak years in eleven German prisoner of war camps. Dr. Nicola Nikolich recalls his days of imprisonment and hard labor when he lost 60 pounds by dieting on poor soup and black bread. But those days are but a nightmare to the Esthonian chemist who is now seeking American citizenship.

Confusion On Bonus-Relief Issue Develops

HARRISBURG, March 9.—(INS)—The question of whether World War 11 veterans on relief will be entitled to a state bonus continued to be thrashed about in confusion today.

Regional Director Joseph B. O'Connor, of the Federal Security administration, said in New York that his agency "has not even considered" withholding any federal relief funds from Pennsylvania if relief-bound veterans are paid the bonus.

He said that there must be a "misconception somewhere."

Warning Issued

A statement released yesterday by Attorney General T. McKeen Chidsey and Public Assistance Secretary Frank A. Robbins, Jr., said that the national administration had warned that $50,000,000 a year in federal relief funds would be withheld from the state if Pennsylvania paid a bonus to veterans on relief without considering it an asset or resource.

"Unless the federal government immediately changes its mind on this proposition, it means that Pennsylvania will be unable to have veterans on relief enjoy the bonus, despite its sincere desire to do so," the statement said.

O'Connor said that his bureau allots $4,000,000 monthly to Pennsylvania for public assistance, but only for old-age assistance applying to persons older than 65 years. The federal government has nothing to do with general relief, O'Connor said.

Robbins estimated that 6,000 veterans would be afected, but O'Connor said that it was impossible for that many World War II ex-servicemen to be over 65.

TANKER POUNDED BY HEAVY SEA

THE BRITISH SHIP Clam is buffeted by a turbulent sea after breaking her towline near the Reykjanes Peninsula, Iceland, while being towed to Cardiff by a tugboat for repairs. Twenty-three crew members were rescued from the 7,000-ton vessel after it had broken loose from the tug. Twenty-seven others, including six officers, were drowned when two of the tanker's lifeboat capsized in the rough seas. (International)

Two Named As Reds, Lose Jobs

PITTSBURGH, March 9.—(INS)—Two persons named by ex-FBI undercover agent Matt Cvetic as Communists were out of work today.

Paul H. Morrison, chief analyst for the Hagan corporation, a combustion and chemical engineering firm, was ordered to "take a leave of absence."

Alice C. Roth, 35, of East Pittsburgh, was fired from her job as secretary at the American Coin-a-Matic Machine company. She previously was dismissed from grand jury service by Allegheny County Judge Michael A. Musmanno because of her alleged Communist activities.

D. J. Erikson, president of the Hagan corporation, said Morrison had been employed by the firm for 22 years. He added:

Denies He's Communist

"I asked him if he is a Communist. He denied it and said he could clear himself. We are giving him a chance to do that. Meanwhile he was told to take a leave of absence."

Cvetic, in testifying before the House un-American Activities committee, said that Morrison was a member of the Thomas Paine Professional club of the Communist party.

Informed that Morrison denied being a Communist, Cvetic declared:

"Tell him to come down to Washington and deny it under oath."

Samuel Strahl, head of the company which employed Mrs. Roth, said: "I never dreamed of anything like this."

He said Mrs. Roth was a very good worker and supported her father and mother.

Housework Easy Without Nagging Backache
As we get older, stress and strain, overexertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.
If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

by Mary Lee Taylor

Spanish Dinner
Broadcast: January 7, 1950

1 large green pepper
1 lb. ground meat*
½ cup Pet Milk
½ cup finely cut onion
2 teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon chili powder
½ teaspoon dry mustard
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons hot shortening
⅔ cup washed, raw rice
No. 2 can tomatoes

Cut green pepper in four ½-in. rings. Cut remaining pepper in small pieces. Mix meat, milk, onion, 1 teasp. salt, pepper, chili powder and dry mustard. Shape meat mixture in 4 patties. Roll patties in flour. Brown on one side in shortening. Turn patties over; put one pepper ring on each. Put finely cut pepper around patties. When patties are brown on under side, add rice, tomatoes and 1 teasp. salt. Cover; cook over low heat 40 min., or until rice is tender. Serve rice mixture in pepper rings and around patties. Makes 4 servings.

*Beef, veal, lean pork, lamb or a mixture of these can be used.

Titans End Regular Season By Downing Bucknell 86-82, For 24th Win

Westminster Laying Claim To District Championship

LEWISBURG, March 9.—Westminster's road-weary Titans put on a final burst of power in the fading minutes of the fourth quarter here last night to come from behind and nose out Bucknell 86-82.

A game that was supposed to have been easy found the tired Titans trailing by 11 points with four minutes left to play. At that point the Westminster quintet stopped the torrid Bucknell offensive action cold and preceded to pour 15 points through the basket.

Fuhrer Shines

An outstanding performance by reserve Dick Fuhrer pulled the Titans through their final game of the regular season. Fuhrer rang up 16 points for the night and was still tossing them through when the final gong sounded. Another reserve, big Ed Halas, who contributed nine points, helped the Titans make their final four minute assault.

Westminster took a one point 18-17 lead at the end of the first period. The Bucknell quintet matched the Titans basket for basket in the second quarter and the score stood 41-40 at the halfway mark with the Blue and White still holding onto a precious one point lead.

Early in the third frame the Titans began to fade under the relentless fast breaking attack of the Bucknell cagers. Washabaugh began to delve deeply into his reserve strength as Al MsCullough, Pat King and Halas accumulated four personal fouls each early in the half. Bucknell continued to roll and led the Titans 63-59 as th fourth period got underway.

Strassner Gets 35

Bill Strassner, Bucknell center, who accounted for 35 points, sparked the Lewisburg quintet to a 82-71 lead in the first six minutes of the final period. At that point the Titans took over.

McCullough sat out much of the final half with four personal fouls called against him was back in the lineup for the final Titan drive. Bruce Wagner tied with Fuhrer with 16 points for high scoring honors for the Blue and White.

District Champions

Last night's victory gave the tournament bound Titans a clear title to the Tri-State district championship. It was their 24th victory in 27 starts. Their nearest competitor, Duquesne (22-4) faltered by the wayside in the home stretch, and lost their third consecutive game last night to Villanova who overran the Dukes 68-52.

As the curtain went down on the final game of the regular season the 1949-50 Titan aggregation had one tournament bid in their hands and were considered still in the running for another bid.

May Get NCAA Bid

The Titans who go to Kansas City next week to compete in the NAIB tourney are one of eight teams presently being considered to represent District 2 in the NCAA tournament that gets underway in New York later this month.

The district champs set a new record in number of wins in a season as they romped to 24 victories. They extended the home victory record of consecutive wins (68) to a new high. Their average score run up against all competition was among the highest in the country.

Tele-Grapplers Coming Friday

Gypsy, Gardini, Palmer On Card

Twenty-four hours remain until the grapplers invade the Arena to engage in three exhibitions—a 60-minute affray, an Australian tag, or brawl, and a 30-minute preliminary.

The Evening's Evenin' will be featured by jousts in which four of the wrestlers, who are stars of television wrestling shows will appear.

They are:

Gypsy Joe, who tossed Billy Parker out of a Chicago ring Saturday night, versus Pierre LaBelle, doughty Frenchman, in the 60-minute exhibition.

Benito Gardini and Walter Palmer versus Bull Montana and Bobby Ford, the latter of Youngstown, in the tag match.

Gardini, Palmer and Montana, like Gypsy Joe, are tele-"artists".

Pancho Valentino, wrestling's "bad boy", will take on Tom Bradley in the opening 30-minute exhibition.

Because of an anticipated crowded Arena, the Jefferson A.C. will open the doors at 7:30 p.m. so fans can become settled in their seats before the show of which will contain lots of exciting theatricals starts at 8:30 p.m.

Andersons Cause Floor Loop Tie

(By International News Service)

The Anderson Packers just won't be counted out in the National Basketball Association's Western Division race.

The Packers tied idle Indianapolis for first place last night by defeating Tri-City, 82 to 67.

Lakers Pad Lead

Minneapolis, taking advantage of Rochester's idleness, increased its lead over the Royals in the Central Division by beating Philadelphia, 68 to 65. George Mikan who scored 34 points, and Vern Mikkelsen pulled the Lakers from behind in the last three and one-half minutes.

A set shot by Carl Braun in the final second of play gave the New York Knickerbockers a thrilling 80 to 78 overtime victory over the St. Louis Bombers.

Other results: Washington 88 Baltimore 80, and Waterloo 97 Denver 68.

Will Go South

New Castle Senators Sign Cronin; Seek North Carolina Training Site

After two years of stumbling around in the dark, the New Castle baseball club—now the Senators—are going about it in the right manner.

First off the Senators last night formally signed Charles "Chuck" Cronin of Tiffin, O., a man with 14 years of organized ball as their playing-manager.

Secondly—the New Castle Senators are looking for a training site in North Carolina, tentatively at Edenton, and will be there for two weeks starting April 15th through April 30th.

Two Concrete Moves

These two concrete moves made by the stockholders and Board of Directors last night at the enthusiasm packed meeting should go a long way towards getting the New Castle ball club out of the doldrums of the cellar confines.

If nothing more it can be said that the New Castle Senators will start off the 1950 season on an equal footing with the other seven clubs and with the dearth of fine material that is headed this way from the Washington Senators and other sources should produce a team that the fans can be proud of.

Will Get Tryouts

Immediately after he had affixed his signature to the contract in the presence of President Al Scarazzo and Attorney Frank Moretti, acting business manager, and perhaps 50 to 75 stockholders, Cronin in a brief talk stated that he was bringing two outstanding young ball players with him to New Castle—Denny Aieschliman 23, of Wauseon, O., an outfielder and Ronnie Henderson, 22, of Marion, O., a right-hand pitcher, who was with Pocatello, Idaho, last year. He is 5 feet 11 inches tall and weighs 185 pounds.

Start Sale Of Tickets

Another good move last night at the meeting was the passing out of 100 general admission season tickets by Ticket Chairman Anthony Conn to the stockholders for sale at $30.00 per ticket. The tickets will be sold on the installment plan if the fans care to buy them that way.

Chairman Conn will appoint a ticket committee to handle the distribution of tickets, both general admission and box seats for the season. The box seats will sell for $50.00.

It was moved by William F. DeCarbo, vice president of the Senators to have a stockholders meeting the first Wednesday of every month, the idea went over unanimously.

Plans Field Changes

Carl "Buffalo" Cialella the veteran groundskeeper said last night that he is anxious to get started at P. J. Flaherty Memorial Field.

Cialella has several changes in mind for this year that will greatly enhance the ball field, which is one of the finest parks in this part of the country, and one of the best in the Mid-Atlantic league.

President Al Scarazzo was bubbling over with enthusiasm last night and stated that "New Castle will give all teams in the league this year a run for their money. We are definitely going after a first division berth all season.

Connie Mack hopes that a 19-game winner named Bob Hooper will strengthen his already highly talented pitching corps. Hooper was with Buffalo last season. Outfielders Ben Guintini of Dallas and Bob Betz of Youngstown and infielder Kermit Wahl of Montreal also are among the A's better aspirants.

—New Castle News Photo

CRONIN AFFIXES SIGNATURE—Shown last night about to sign his name to the 1950 contract as playing-manager of the New Castle Senators baseball team, is Charles "Chuck" Cronin of Tiffin, Ohio, and looking on (left) smiling, is Attorney Frank Moretti, legal advisor to the Senators and acting business manager, of the club, and on the (right) his arm around Cronin is Al Scarazzo, president of the board of directors, and well-known Southside business executive. Quoting Cronin, "I am very happy to be coming to New Castle, and express thanks for the confidence you have placed in me".

DON SCHENA

Basketball is still a game for the little man—if he's good—according to the opinion of the Section 24 basketball coaches.

This group of experts has selected little Don Schena, 5-9 Wampum forward, as the most valuable player to his team during the 1950 campaign. All seven coaches participated in the balloting and a mentor could not vote for a member of his team. Schena received first place votes [illegible] total of 53 points on an inverse counting system. Tom Hutchison of New Wilmington was second with 51 points, and Pat Kerr of Mt. Jackson third with 47.

In addition to Schena, first place votes were received by Caesar Craine, Wampum; Kerr, and Albert Armotorio, Wampum.

Not New Award

Receiving most valuable acclaim is not exactly new to the senior sharpshooter who was also the league's leading scorer. In 1945 Schena was a member of a Wampum junior team that was one of 57 participating in an East Liverpool tournament. The little Indians won the tourney and Schena was presented with a big trophy for being the most valuable player.

Schena completed his third year on the Wampum varsity and second of first team play Tuesday night in the loss to Avalon. Perhaps it was not the nicest way to end the regular season but even in that fray, when things were really tough, the team looked to Schena to keep the ball moving and for what little organization it was able to muster.

Good Feeder

Beside leading the league is scoring, Schena led his team with a very respectable 34.5 per cent in field goal shooting. He hit on 48 of 79 foul attempts for 61 per cent. Although being the shortest regular, Schena was third high on his team in the rebound department, and was also second in assists. His "feeder" play was definitely one of the outstanding features that contributed to his selection by the coaches.

Players receiving more than 20 points and their total in the balloting is as follows:

Schena, Wampum	53
Hutchison, New Wilmington	51
Kerr, Mt. Jackson	47
Craine, Wampum	40
Smith, East Brook	34
Mayberry, East Brook	31
Anderson, Bessemer	28
Armotorio, Wampum	26

Ricks-Elliotts Battle Saturday

The J. R. Rick roller-hockey team will battle the strong Elliotts team of Pittsburgh at the Arena Saturday night at 9 o'clock it was announced by Coach Lee Stoops. This will be the first appearance here for the Elliotts who posses a fine record this year.

Divorce rate in small towns is only about half that in large cities.

Oldest Baseball League To Have At Least 6 Teams

The oldest baseball league in the district in continuous operation will have at least six teams this year, according to an announcement made today by Jim Martin, Lawrence county league secretary.

Martin said that the league started in 1922 with William G. Andrews as its first president. Every year since that time the league has provided baseball opportunity and spectator interest throughout the county.

At the annual "hot stove" dinner of the league, held recently at The Castleton, six teams were represented and all indicated that they will have franchise money ready and will field a team whenever dates are established by league officials. It is anticipated that two more teams will be interested in joining the county circuit. Those already listed as starters for the 1950 pennant campaign are Bessemer, 1949 champions; Wampum, runners-up; Koppel, Hillsville, New Galilee and Ellwood VFW.

The reorganization meeting and franchise application meeting for new teams will be at the Sporting Goods Store, North Mercer street, on March 16 at 8 o'clock. Officers will be elected at this session, plans made for the new season, and applicants for league membership considered.

Villanova Tops Duquesne, 68-52

PHILADELPHIA, March 9.—(INS)—Villanova college, led by all-American center Paul Arizin's 30 points, closed its 1950 basketball season with a 68-52 victory over Duquesne—a team bound for the National Invitation Tournament at New York.

An overflow 8,735, largest in the Philadelphia Palestra since prewar days, watched Arizin raise his regular-season major scoring record to 735 for 29 games. The tilt last night was Arizin's final for the Wildcats and made his three-year career total 1,596.

In the second game of the double-bill, Pennsylvania defeated Duke, 68-50.

Elks Five Beats Boosters, 54 To 49

Twin City Elks of Sharon and Farrell downed the East Brook Boosters 54 to 49 last night at East Brook High gym.

The winners overcame an early Booster splurge to lead by one point at half-time and take charge in the last two periods.

The talented young Sharon "Whiz Kids" and a unicycle act pleased the large turnout before the main game.

"Basketball is in a sorry state when officials either don't know the rules or lack the courage to enforce them."

Washington State Signs Kircher

PULLMAN, Wash., March 9.—(INS)—Alton S. Kircher, Michigan State head basketball coach and assistant football and baseball coach, has been signed as the latest addition to Coach Forest Evashevski's formidable six-man Washington State college football staff.

Kircher is the third assistant grid mentor brought to W.S.C. by Evashevski, former Michigan State backfield coach.

The new Cougar assistant was chief football scout as well as head basketball coach at Michigan State, his alma mater.

Tri-County Tournament Gets Under Way Monday

Tri-county class B high school basketball tournament will be held Mrach 13, 14, 16 and 17 at Westminster college floor.

Final plans for the annual tournament between the teams from Lawrence, Mercer and Butler counties were made at a meeting of the committee in the New Wilmington school Wednesday afternoon.

Ten teams — Wampum, East Brook, Mt. Jackson, New Wilmington, Shenango, Bessemer, Union, Evans City, Stoneboro and Zelienopie—are entered in the tournament.

The basketball tournament is part of a year round program set up by the Tri-Conuty Athletic association. Receipts from the games will go towards helping tri-county athletics.

Organization Delayed

Final organization of the tournament was delayed because of waiting for final permission of the WPIAL and PIAA to go ahead. Two teams—Hickory and Mercer —were refused permission to enter the tournament by the PIAA because they are still in the PIAA playoffs.

High school eligibility and playing rules will be observed thruout the tournament. Admission will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students. All tickets at the door will be 50 cents.

Members of the tri-county committee are:

Seth Gustin, Mercer, president; Al Bender, Zelienople, vice president; Walt Whitman, New Wilmnigton, secretary-treasurer; Fran Webster, Mt. Jackson, and Bob Eagleson, New Wilmington.

The tournament has been set up on a championship and consolation basis as in past years. First game losers will playoff for the consolation title.

Schedule for the tournament was drawn up at the meeting. First four teams—Wampum, East Broko, Mt. Jackson and New Wilmington —were seeded and put in separate quarters and the rest were drawn from a hat.

Tournament schedule is as follows:

Monday, March 13—Mt. Jackson vs. Bessemer, 7; Wampum vs. Zelienople, 8; New Wilmington vs. Evans City, 9; East Brook vs. Shenango, 10.

Tuesday, March 14—Consolation game, 7; winner Mt. Jackson-Bessemer vs. Union, 8; consolation game, 9; winner New Wilmington-Evans City vs. Stoneboro, 10.

Thursday, March 16—Consolation semi-final (if necessary), 7; winner Wampum-Zelienople vs. winner Mt. Jackson-Bessemer-Unino, 8; consolation semi-final (if necessary), 9; winner East Brook-Shenango vs. winner New Wilmington-Evans City-Stoneboro vs. 10.

Friday, March 17—Consolation final, 7:30; championship game, 8:30.

Consolation schedule is tentative. Final dates and times will be made known at the end of the first round of games.

Jorgensen Will Coach Waynesburg

WAYNESBURG, March 3. —(INS)—Roger K. Jorgensen, who couldn't make the Pitt basketball team back in 1947, was named head basketball coach at Waynesburg College yesterday.

He succeeds Frankie Gustine who resigned last Monday because coaching in the winter and playing major league baseball in the summer was "too much of a strain". Jorgensen assisted Gustine the last two years.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

BOXING IS A 'SICK MAN', and reeling from various causes, one of which is poor houses, or gate receipts insufficient to earn a profit for the promoter. However, the fault to a certain degree, may be laid at the doorstep of the promoter, because he allows business judgmnt to be overcome by sentiment, and picks as an opponent for a "home town" boy, or favorite, an opponent, who cannot give the favorite an even fight, and second, because he selects as an opponent of the "Pride of Homeville", or the favorite, a fighter who is little, if known at all, in the district wherein he is to fight. When a fan pays to see a fight he wants to witness a match as evenly as it can be arranged. Only the most rabid partisan yearns to see an inferior opponent battered into insensibility. Usually after the gloating is over, the rabid partisan will privately agree the match should never have been arranged. Fans will still pay to see two well-matched, named fighters.

Several days ago, Ben Finnefrock asked Here & There: "Does a 'buck' deer shed all its antlers, or only the outer shell of its antlers?" The writer communicated with former game protector, Sheriff Frank Coen, who explained:

"A buck sheds all of its antlers.

"They fall off in December or January.

"In May, a velvety 'bulb' grows fast. However, it is soft, and filled with blood cells and nerves.

"Fawns are born about this time of year, and does have no trouble driving away the 'bucks'.

"In July, the velvety 'bulb' hardens and in September, the 'buck' begins to rub off the velvet, against trees.

"The antlers grow fast and are only on a 'buck' for approximately three months, or October, November and December."

Kiner Pounds 2 More Homers

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Mar. 9.—(INS)—Obeservers at the Pittsburgh Pirate training camp at San Bernardino think that Major League home run king Ralph Kiner is headed for his best season.

Veterans with the club think Kiner, who is suffering a bad cold, has not reached the height of his power and coordination.

In an eight-inning squad game yesterday, Kiner hit two home runs.

LEGAL NOTICES

An Ordinance For The Improvement Of Cuba Street And A Part Of Lincoln Avenue In The First Ward, New Castle, Pennsylvania

Notice is hereby given, that under the authority of Sections 2916 and 2935 of the Third Class City Code, there has been introduced into the Council of the City of New Castle, the following Ordinance, which has been referred to the Committee of the Whole, in order to be advertised as required by the said Act of Assembly. The said Ordinance will be on file in the Office of the City Clerk until March 27th, 1950, when it shall be called up for final passage, at which time, if it is approved by the affirmative vote of at least four (4) members of the Council, it shall be passed and become effective.

AN ORDINANCE

Establishing and ordaining Lincoln Avenue, a 50 foot Street, between Shenango Street and Cuba Street, and Cuba Street, a 50 foot Street, between Lincoln Avenue and Wick Street, and providing for the opening of these streets between the said points at a grade to be established thereon before the said improvement is contracted for, and that the said streets be reduced to grade and paved between the said points according to plans and specifications to be approved by Council, providing for the advertisement for bids and the letting of a contract for the doing of the said work and for the payment of the costs of the same; assessing and levying the whole cost of the said improvement on the abutting property owners according to the foot front rule; and providing for the settlement of any damages arising from the said improvement.

SECTION 1. BE IT ORDAINED AND ENACTED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF NEW CASTLE, PENNSYLVANIA, That Lincoln Avenue be and the same is hereby ordained and established as a 50 foot Street between the center line of Shenango Street and the center line of Cuba Street, as herein established, along the following center line, to-wit:

Commencing at the intersection of the center line of Shenango Street with the center line of Lincoln Avenue, as the same have been heretofore established, and extending thence South 88 degrees 44¾ minutes West 503.5 feet to the center line of Cuba Street, as herein established; and that Cuba Street be and the same is hereby ordained and established as a 50 foot Street, between Lincoln Avenue, as herein established, and Wick Street, along the following center line, to-wit:

Commencing at the center line of Wick Street at a point 222.10 feet North 87 degrees 56½ minutes East from the intersection of the center line of Wick Avenue with the center line of Locust Street, and extending thence North 1 degree 23 minutes West 366.65 feet to the center line of Lincoln Avenue, as herein established.

The said Streets, as established, are shown on a drawing prepared by the City Engineer, approved by Council, and on file in the Office of the City Engineer, marked Drawing No. and one-half of the width of each of the said Streets shall lie on each side of their respective center lines, as hereinabove described, and the intersection of the said Streets shall be curved as shown on the said Drawing.

SECTION 2. That the Council shall, before advertising for bids for the improvements required by this Ordinance, fix and establish on the said Streets between the said points the grade of the same.

SECTION 3. That the said Streets shall be forthwith reduced to the grades to be established thereon and opened for their full width between the respective termini of the same, as herein established.

SECTION 4. That the said Streets between the said points shall be immediately paved with concrete or some other Hard surface material, according to plans and specifications to be prepared by the City Engineer and approved by Council, after advertisement for bids for the doing of all of the work contemplated and required by this Ordinance.

SECTION 5. That all of the cost of the said work shall be paid for out of Appropriation No. 402UU4, and shall be assessed and levied immediately, and is hereby assessed and levied, against the abutting property owners on the said Streets according to the foot front rule.

SECTION 6. The Mayor is hereby authorized to enter into a contract with the property owners on the said Streets, or any of them, prior to the letting of any contract for the improvement of the said Streets, as herein provided, settling any damages or claims for damages arising out of the said improvement and for the taking of land for the making of the same, and for the payment of the whole cost and expense of the said improvement by the said property owners or any of them.

Masters' Golf List Increased

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 9.—(INS)—The names of seven more golfers today were added to the list of 100 already invited to participate in the Masters' Invitational Golf Tournament at Augusta April 6-9

The newcomers include Harvie Ward, Jr., of Tarboro, N. C., nominated by the U. S. amateur champions as the most capable univited amateur, and Jack Burke, Jr., of White Plaine, N. Y., named by the U. S. Open titalists as the best in the professional ranks not previously qualified.

Also expected for the four-day meet are Norman Von Nida, Australia's leading professional; Roberto de Vincenzo and Antonio Cerda, of Argentina; Henry de Lamaze, France's most popular amateur, and Pascual Viola, of Uruguay.

Wins Ski Event

THE YOUNGEST skier ever to win an event in the Harriman Cup Tourney is Andrea Mead (above), 17, of Rutland, Vt. She covered the two-mile course in the unofficial time of 2:22.4, taking first place in the down-hill event at Sun Valley, Idaho. (International Soundphoto)

Spectacular Specs

$250,000 diamond-studded spectacles don't seem to affect vision of Nanette Fabray, New York musical comedy star, but the price is a bit blinding. They are being shown by a Fifth avenue optician. (International)

Bradley, Kentucky, Duquesne, St. John's Seeded In Tourney

By JOHN BARRINGTON
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, March 8—Bradley, Kentucky, Duquesne and St. John's of Brooklyn were singled out as favorites for the National Invitation Tournament Tuesday as the tournament committee awarded them seeded status.

Defending champion San Francisco (19-6) and City College of New York (16-5) were matched in the first tournament game Saturday afternoon. Western Kentucky (24-5) meets Niagara (20-6) in the second game.

Additional first round games Saturday night pair Long Island U. (20-4) against Syracus (17-7) and La Salle (20-3) against Arizona (26-4).

The four seeded teams advance automatically to the quarter-final round. Bradley (27-3) meets the LIU-Syracuse winner and St. John's (22-4) plays the Western Kentucky-Niagara victor next Monday night.

On Tuesday, Kentucky (25-4) plays the San Francisco-CCNY winner and Duquesne (22-3) tangles with the La Salle-Arizona survivor.

The draw eliminates any possibility of a rematch between 1949 NIT opponents, although half the teams played in last year's tourney.

DRY ENGLAND

LONDON—Britain is fast going "dry"—without the formality of an 18th amendment. Either from choice or necessity the beer-drinking Briton is cutting his consumption so drastically that many saloon owners are facing bankruptcy. Sales for last month were expected to be the lowest since the trade began keeping national books.

THAT'S LOYALTY

BOSTON — Because Harvard bridge was closed for repairs, a Harvard student, James Are, swam across the Charles river from Cambridge to Boston when he had an errand to do. He refused to cross by the Boston University bridge.

In Father's Seat

REP. WILLIAM H. BATES (R), Massachusetts, takes over in the House of Representatives the seat left vacant when his father was killed last November in a plane crash in the nation's capital. Bates is a former Navy lieutenant. (International)

New York Stocks

Market Today Mixed, Dull

NEW YORK, March 9.—(INS)—Stocks were mixed and dull in forenoon trading today. Oils fell back into a rut after yesterday's upward bulge. Steels and Motors were uninteresting at slightly easier levels. Rails looked firm but dearth of volume restricted price changes.

First hour volume approximated 270,000 shares.

Pepsi-Cola drifted fractionally lower. The stock fell 1 1-4 yesterday when directors passed a dividend. Gulf Oil, up more than a point Wednesday, reacted 5-8 to 61 1-4. At 106 5-8 Santa Fe was more than a half better. American Telephone equaled its 1949-50 high of 151.

Chicago grains lost fractionally. N. Y. cotton opened mixed. In the curb list Technicolor piled a 5-8 gain on top of yesterday's 3 1-4 advance. Bonds were quiet and firm.
